

High Court Will Not Review Reversal on Communist Party

Sustains Lower Tribunal's Decision on U. S. Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to review a decision overturning conviction of the Communist party of the United States for failure to register under the Internal Security Act.

The refusal leaves the lower court decision standing.

The Supreme Court's action was announced in a brief order that gave no reason.

Government Appeals

Justice Byron R. White, formerly deputy attorney general, took no part in consideration of the case.

The lower court's decision was by a three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals here.

The Justice Department had asked the Supreme Court to hear argument in the case and reverse the lower court.

The appeals court held that the government had failed to prove anyone was available to the party who could sign the registration statement without incriminating himself.

Urging reversal of the decision, the government appeal questioned whether party officers may refuse to register for the party "when they cannot possibly incriminate themselves because the statute prohibits

Goldwater Can't Win Their States, 3 Governors Assert

Rockefeller, Scranton and Romney Express Opinions On Position of Arizonan

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., had notice today from three Republican governors that if he becomes the GOP presidential nominee he will have to alter his conservative image or lose their big states in the November election.

Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and George Romney of Michigan spoke out Sunday at news conferences held in connection with today's opening of the 56th annual national Governors' Conference.

Scranton said on a television broadcast and at a news conference that he is available for the presidential nomination. He edged a little further into the race at the urging of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Scranton said Republican candidates are worried about winning in their states if Goldwater is the nominee.

Rockefeller said he is in the race until a better representative of the moderate Republicans comes along, and he made it clear he doesn't think one will.

Ask More Liberal Planks

What had taken on the aspects Sunday of a "Stop-Goldwater" movement rapidly was changing into an effort by Republican moderates to get Goldwater to accept a strong civil rights declaration in the party platform, and to repudiate some of his ideas, such as making Social Security voluntary.

After a day in which GOP moderates flailed away at Goldwater, Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon summed it up as "an exercise in sheer futility."

He said he thinks Goldwater's nomination is certain.

Goldwater said in Chester, Pa. where he accepted an honorary degree from Pennsylvania Military College, that he would be glad to talk to Scranton and other leaders about the issues.

Goldwater's Comment

"I think I can safely say that I can run on a platform that would contain the civil rights bill that passes the Congress," said Goldwater. "I can assure you it won't be the one that is before us now."

He added that he thinks less than 1 per cent of the Republicans favor the public accommodations section of the bill.

Romney told a news conference Goldwater's views do not "square with the principles for which the Republican party stands on the basis of its past record and heritage."

Romney's Statement

If Goldwater doesn't clarify them to his satisfaction, the Michigan governor said, "I will

Throngs Rush Into River at Nehru Rites

ALLAHABAD, India (AP) — Thousands of grieving Indians plunged into the Ganges River in a frenzied stampede today as the ashes of the late Prime Minister Nehru were strewn on India's holy rivers.

At least one woman drowned before police, wielding clubs from boats, forced swimmers and waders to the shore. Four persons were killed in a stampede Sunday as Nehru's ashes were brought from New Delhi.

The mourning thousands, dressed in the white homespun cotton of India's poor, mobbed a floating platform and it sank under their weight. Scores tried to climb in boats filled with newsmen and government officials, but police beat them back.

Half Million on Banks

About half a million persons crowded to the river banks or waded in. The temperature hit 107 degrees and scores collapsed. Others were injured by police clubs.

Nehru's family, wilted by the heat and almost deafened by the uproar, went out into the river in an amphibious army vehicle to strew the ashes.

"Babuji (father) is gone," sobbed Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, as she boarded the vehicle.

Her sons, Rajiv and Sanjay, emptied the urn of Nehru's ashes at a point where the Ganges and the Jumna rivers meet.

Second U. S. Jet In 2 Days Shot Down by Reds

One Pilot Taken Out of Jungle; Hunt Continues for Other

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Communist groundfire knocked down the second U.S. Navy jet in two days over Laos Sunday, but the pilot was safely lifted out of the red-held jungle.

U.S. officials hoped to continue an air search today for the pilot of the first plane, but a heavy cloud cover hung over Vientiane. The monsoon season has set in.

Both planes were shot down east of the Plaine des Jarres area, recently overrun by the Pathet Lao. Both were Crusader jets capable of 1,000 miles an hour. They were operating from the carrier Kitty Hawk in the South China Sea.

Second Jet Armed

The second jet was armed and accompanying an unarmed reconnaissance plane over central Laos. The United States has been conducting photographic flights over Communist positions since May 17 at the request of the neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma.

The pilot, Cmdr. Doyle W. Lynn of La Mesa, Calif., was

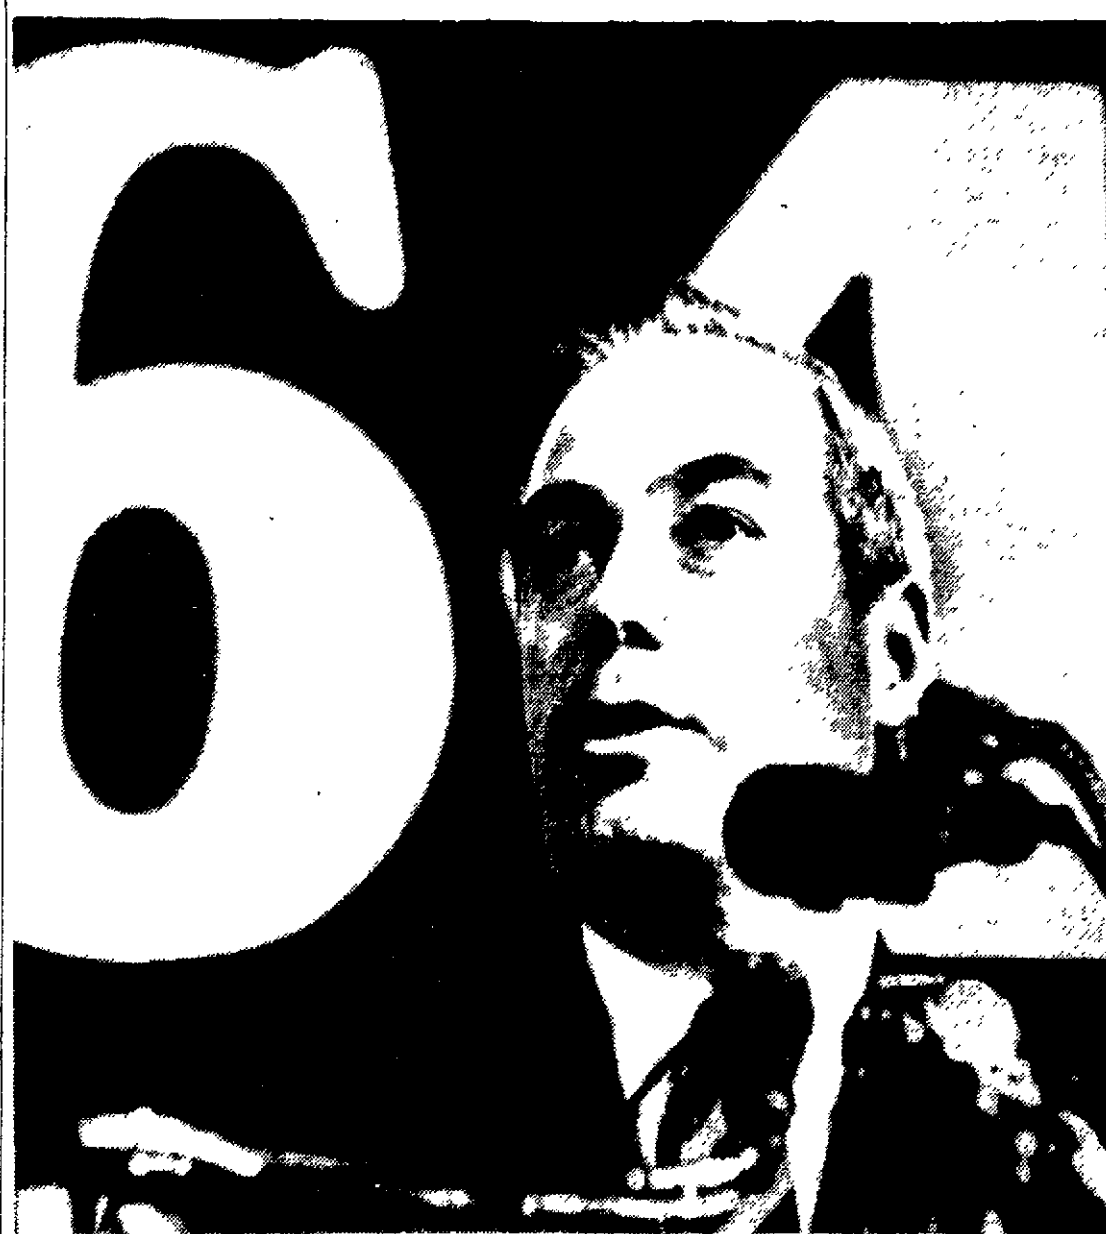

No Jury Trial For Ex-Governor Of Mississippi

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to reconsider its denial of a jury trial to former Mississippi Gov. Ross R. Barnett and his successor, Paul B. Johnson, on criminal contempt charges filed against them in the James H. Meredith case.

Barnett and Johnson were charged with contempt on the ground they refused to obey orders of the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans not to interfere with admission of Meredith, a Negro, to the University of Mississippi in 1962.

Meredith entered the university amid rioting that caused President Kennedy to send in federal troops. Meredith since was graduated.

The Supreme Court split 5-4 in ruling April 6 against claims by Barnett and Johnson that they were entitled to a jury trial. The decision left Barnett and Johnson subject to trial by the judges of the New Orleans Circuit Court.

Johnson Ridicules Talk of Federal Threat to Freedom

Urges Graduates Not to Hold 'Phantom Fears' About Future

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP) — President Johnson scoffed today at those who call the federal government "a major menace to individual liberty."

"This," he asserted, "is not so."

The chief executive went on to ask a series of rhetorical questions, all of them obviously intended to be answered in the negative:

"Does government subvert our freedom through the social security system?"

"Does government undermine our freedom by bringing electricity to the farm—by controlling floods—or by ending bank failures?"

Other Questions

"Is freedom lessened by efforts to abate pollution in our streams—or by efforts to strengthen competition in the free market?"

"Is freedom diminished by banning the sale of harmful drugs—by providing school lunches for our children—by preserving our wilderness areas—or by improving the safety of our airways?"

Johnson saved for last civil rights, a subject he has mentioned before.

Strikers Turn Down Contract At Essex Wire

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP) — State labor mediators scheduled a meeting with company and union representatives today in an effort to finalize a settlement of the 101-day-old Essex Wire Corp. strike.

The mediation meeting was scheduled for 2 p.m. in Detroit.

Meanwhile National Guard troops maintained a vigil in this southern Michigan community following a union refusal to accept full terms of a proposed settlement pact.

No pickets nor nonunion workers were at the plant today.

Aberdeen Authorities Issue Booklet on How To Stamp Out Typhoid

ABERDEEN Scotland (AP) — Municipal authorities today began distributing 30,000 copies of a 12-page booklet on how to stamp out typhoid, as the city's outbreak of the disease reached a new peak.

The number of cases reported in the city rose Sunday to 402, of which 342 have been confirmed as typhoid. The number of confirmed cases is now higher than in the worst previous modern outbreak in Britain. In the 1937 outbreak in London's Croydon suburb there were 346 confirmed cases, of whom 43 died.

One death has been reported in the current outbreak.

Aberdeen's medical officer of health, Dr. I. A. G. MacAuliffe, said Sunday the pattern of the outbreak in the city now suggests that it is coming under control.

It is to help perfect the city's hygiene that the booklet.

Some Vietnamese Catholics blamed the Kennedy administration for Diem's overthrow.

A pamphlet distributed at the rally charged that Lodge "exploited the so-called repression of Buddhists last year to over-flood the old regime. Now he is fomenting religious discrimination to create a new regime subservient to his own personal aims."

Another Youth Riding in Stolen Pickup Is Wounded

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A riddling the rear with bullets. Shots hit their car, and two other city cruisers that had joined the chase.

Ten miles later, tires punctured, the pickup slammed into a ditch.

Jimmy May was dead of three wounds in the back and neck. Felix Fesmire, 15, identified as the driver, was shot but not seriously wounded in the shoulder.

Keith said officers did not know the boy's ages at the time of the shooting.

He said the pair had left Boys Ranch, a welfare organization which often cares for orphans and delinquents, earlier in the day. Police were investigating the possibility the pair may have robbed a farm family and shot a cowboy.

The Clyde Kohler family reported two boys held them up Sunday night and stole their pickup.

Kohler said the pair cut their telephone wire, took some ammunition and left after saying they had shot a man earlier.

Headquarters of the LIT Ranch reported one of their cowboys did not return from a hunting trip.

38 Senators File Cloture Petition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty-eight senators filed a petition today to close off the Senate's record filibuster against the House-passed civil rights bill.

The petition to invoke the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule was sent to the desk by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and will automatically come to a vote one hour after the Senate meets on Wednesday.

Boy Rescued After He Saves Fishing Bobber

SPARTA (AP) — Steven Peters, 8, saved his fishing line bobber after it had floated away on Perch Lake Sunday. Odes Clark saved Steven.

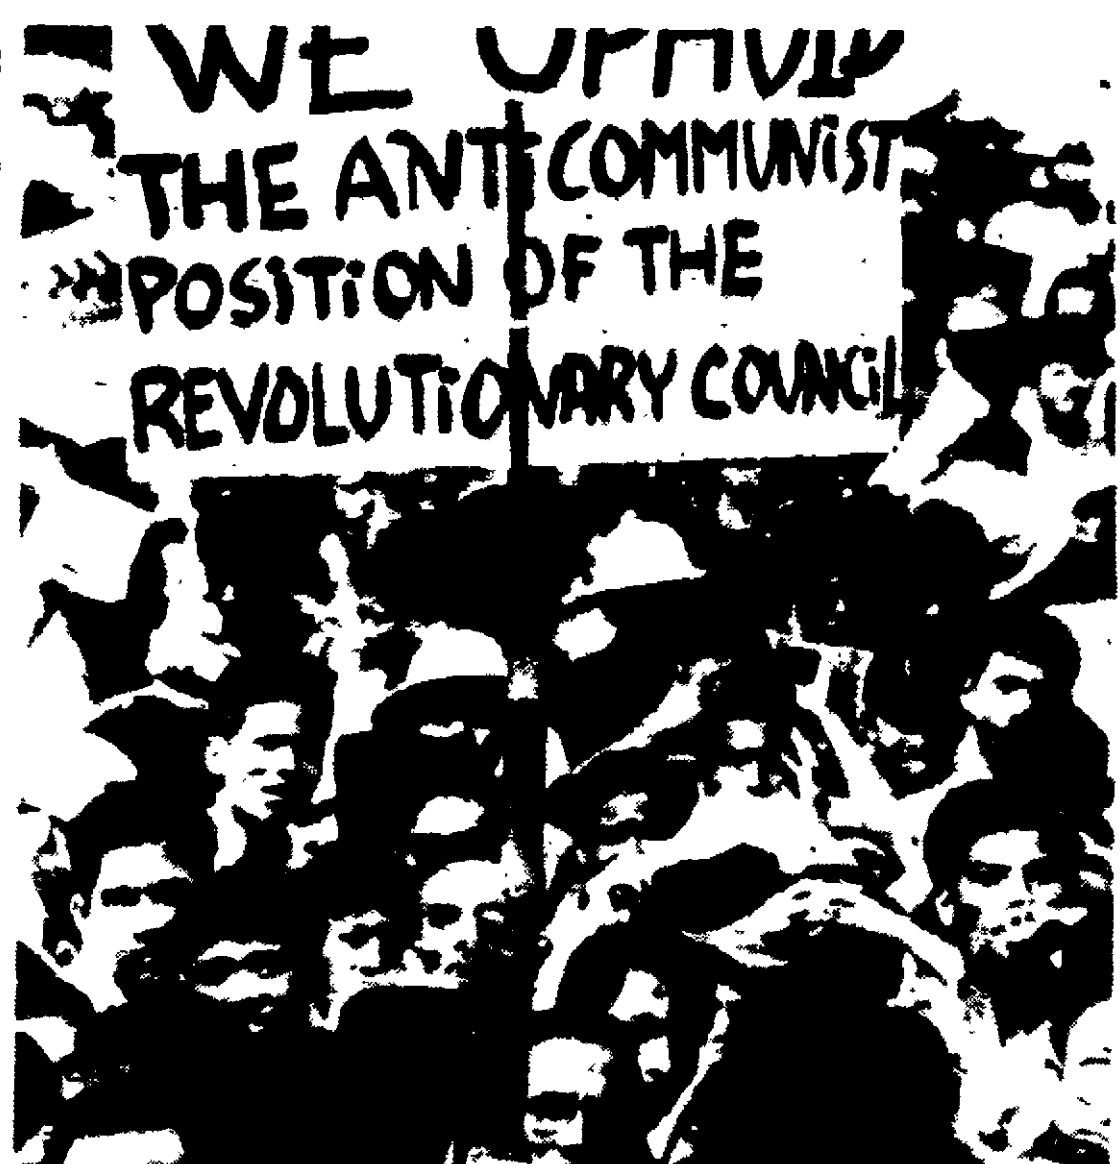

When the bobber came loose, Steven found a board, climbed on and began to paddle after it. The board sank and he began to shout.

The 39-year-old Clark, of Sparta, answered the call and when he reached the scene all he saw was the boy's head beneath the surface. Clark jumped in and pulled out Steven, who was clutching the bobber in his hand.

The boy had swallowed a lot of water but didn't need medical aid.

State College Regents Delay Action on Major

Physical Education Course at OSC Depends on Need

MADISON—The board of regents of state colleges for the second time has deferred a decision on the proposed authorization of a major course of study in physical education for men at the Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh.

A major in physical education for women already is offered at Oshkosh, but regents have indicated they desire more information on the job market for male physical education graduates before they expand the program there.

Historically, physical education for male students has been a major at the state college at LaCrosse.

The college faculty will be authorized to proceed with the approved programs when expected endorsement is given by the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education at its next meeting here.

The regents also have approved major courses of study in accounting at Eau Claire and in Latin American studies at Stevens Point, and are considering majors in German and in fine and applied arts and art education at Eau Claire, subject to the ratification of the Coordinating Committee.

A degree of Bachelor of Science in medical technology has been authorized for the state college at Whitewater.

Atlantic City Headquarters For Democratic Convention

$2½ Million Being Spent to Prepare for Giant Onslaught

BY TOM SEPPY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—This resort likes to call itself the "Convention Capital of the United States" and it plans to show the country it deserves that title during the Democratic National Convention this summer.

"It's important to us," said one official. "We've never had such an opportunity to put our best foot forward before so many people. This convention has given us the heaviest concentration of exposure we've ever had and we don't want to miss it up."

It is the first time that New Jersey ever has been selected as the site of a national political convention by either major party. With a population of only 60,000, this is the smallest city ever to be host to such a convention.

day holiday in the summer, like the July 4th weekend, bank deposits run about $15 million," said one city official. "Spread that over the week the convention will be here and that means some $30 million will be spent in the city."

"And we have a captive audience. Unlike tourists or vacationers, the delegates can't leave the city if we have bad weather."

In addition to the money being invested, city officials have sponsored classes in courtesy, sales and merchandising attended by personnel who will come in contact with the public.

Low Scale of Living Causes Korean Crisis

Nation Too Poor To Emerge From Economic Distress

BY ROBERT LIU

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—When President Chung Hee Park took the oath of office six months ago, he pledged to stamp out corruption and never permit a dictatorship to return to South Korea.

Today Park, 46, finds himself compared to the toughest Latin-American strong man and government employees have been accused of openly accepting bribes.

Hardships often spawn corruption, and this bleak, barren peninsula nation has hardships.

Faced Big Problems

When Park was sworn Dec. 17, after heading a military junta for three years, some of the most pressing problems facing South Korea's Third Republic were inflation, unemployment and lack of foreign exchange.

South Korea still faces the same problems, but Park has introduced some improvements to ease the burden of the nation's 30 million people.

He has brought in new industry, notably cement and fertilizer plants. But this was done by straining other sectors of the economy and forcing the people to live an austere life.

Low Wage Scale

A government worker's average monthly salary runs about $24, or about half of what it takes for basic essentials.

Since 1945, the United States has pumped in about $3.6 billion in economic aid. This flow of help hardly slowed during the Korean War, or during the political crisis that forced President Syngman Rhee to resign and a bloodless coup that ousted Premier John M. Chang and brought Park to power.

South Korea virtually floats on U. S. aid. Park realized this when he assumed control of the country after the 1961 coup. He introduced an ambitious five-year industrialization plan in 1962 to increase the nation's growth rate by an average of 7 per cent annually.

The plan fell far short of its goals the first two years, and it was readjusted to return an average annual growth rate of 5 per cent.

Bigger Convention

There have been bigger conventions held in this Atlantic resort city—with its famed boardwalk, hotels, motels, and eating places—since it actively began to seek conventions in an organized manner in 1909. But none of the more 15,000 held in the past—more than 500 were to be held here this year—has put the spotlight so directly on the city.

The convention will open Aug. 24 at the municipal Convention Hall, claimed to be the largest indoor arena in the world. Most hotel and motel rooms are within walking distance of the hall. Some 5,200 delegates and alternates, plus their families and news media representatives and others will bring probably 25,000 to the convention.

The main room of the hall, which can seat 41,000 persons, has no obstructions and is so tall that a 13-story building could be set on the floor without touching the roof. It is at Convention Hall that the annual Miss America pageants are held.

Seats 5,000

The ballroom of the hall seats 5,000 and there are 34 committee or meeting rooms that can accommodate from 25 to 500 people.

State and city officials and businessmen bid feverishly to get the presidential nomination convention here this year, especially since New Jersey is celebrating its 300th anniversary during 1964.

They made a combined $625,000 financial commitment which included $175,000 from local businesses and city government, $200,000 from the state government and $250,000 from the host committee, a bipartisan group of state businessmen.

Air Condition Hall

The city also agreed to air-condition the hall, a $2-million undertaking, that required a bond issue. The hall, which the Democrats will use rent-free, was scheduled to be air-conditioned anyway, but obtaining the convention moved up the completion date to July 1 of this year.

Another $160,000 will pay for 7,000 new seats and $200,000 is being invested in new lighting. Work is well along on the installation of 300 mercury vapor lights in the ceiling of the main hall.

Why is the city investing so much money, especially since many hotel and motel people did not want the convention because it will be here during the height of the summer season—the week beginning Aug. 24?

Latin American Studies Included At State College

Starting this fall, students at Wisconsin State College-Stevens Point may plan curriculums to include a minor in Latin American studies, Pres. James H. Albertson has announced.

By the fall of 1966, course expansion will make a major in the Latin American studies available.

Geographical proximity, economic interdependence and Latin American political conditions make the area of vital concern to the U. S. and influenced the decision to provide the study program on a broader basis.

Program Adviser

Dr. Robert J. Knowlton, adviser for the program and WSC assistant professor of history, attended the University of Mexico in Mexico City and was stationed in Panama with the U. S. Army.

Other staff members include Dr. Maurice E. Perret, assistant professor of geography; Dr. Ralph S. Holloway, associate professor of sociology, and Francisco Solinis Herrero, assistant professor of Spanish and French.

Travel, work and study in Latin American countries will be recommended and fostered through possible exchange programs, summer-travel study and other international programs.

Lawrence Trustee Named to Committee To Choose Scholars

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A committee of judges has been named to select two Wisconsin college sophomores who will receive educational awards from the Warren Spahn Foundation to help in the completion of their junior and senior years.

Dick Falk, vice president of the foundation which honors the great Milwaukee Braves left-hander, appointed three persons to the committee. They are Mrs. Richard W. Cutler, a trustee of Lawrence College; Lloyd Larson, sports editor of The Milwaukee Sentinel and a member of the Milwaukee School Board, and James Franklin Kress, president of Green Bay packaging Inc., and president of the Lakeland College board of trustees.

Seabees Try to Quiet Costa Rican Volcano

Control Project Designed to Stem Flow of 'Lajar' Down the Mountain

BY ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—A young U. S. Navy ensign who looks small enough to get lost in a subchaser has been given the big job of taking some of the bite out of an angry Central American volcano.

Almost as if sensing an affront, Costa Rica's mighty Mt. Irazu has been roaring angry defiance ever since the ensign and his 32-man crew of U. S. Navy Seabees arrived last week.

"It's impressive," said Ensign Hans W. Zassenhaus, 26, as he had his first close look at the 11,262-foot smoke-covered peak of Irazu volcano.

Toughest Job

With a hint of awe, the lean, blue-eyed sailor from 3711 Military Road, NW, Washington, D.C., added: "I just hope it stays peaceful and lets us finish the job. I'd say this is the toughest assignment I've ever had."

Assent was nodded by his two top aides, Chief Petty Officers Earl W. Moore, 50, of 2105 Reeves Drive, Raleigh, N.C., and John W. Hillhouse, 37, of 6818 Adams Ave., Bell Gardens, Calif.

Zassenhaus bosses a $2-million flood control project near the agriculturally important town of Cartago, 12 miles east of San Jose and nine miles down the slope from the volcano's top. This is no ordinary flood control scheme. It involves mud, not ash. Mixed with rain, volcanic ash becomes a dense compound known as lajar.

Rainy Season

Toward the end of Costa Rica's long rainy season last December, the well-saturated cover of lajar blanketing Irazu's slopes came slithering down at express train speed. The avalanche, carrying boulders the size of houses on its crest, sideswiped Cartago, flattening scores of homes and killing nine persons.

The Seabees, employing 50 plane loads of heavy equipment that eventually will be turned over to the Costa Rican government under the Alliance for Progress program, are clearing and widening the channel of the last slide.

They will construct 12-foot dikes along the channel running above and below Cartago. The dikes will follow the course of the otherwise peaceful Reventado River, a stream barely three feet across at Cartago.

Cheers from several thousand Cartago residents greeted the arriving Seabees. These turned to wide-eyed respect as the Americans worked busily in a drenching rain. Townspeople lost no time tearing down a few "Marines go home" signs that had sprouted around Cartago.

Fear Eruption

Fears of a giant eruption have increased. The volcano has become more awesome and dangerous in its activity in the last two months. Once given to long periods of sighs and grunts between occasional heavy explosions, the volcano now thunders with earth-shaking explosions that send showers of car-sized rocks lazily over its rim. People no longer walk to the rim to gaze into the boiling, smoky central crater.

A shift in wind direction in the past several weeks has given San Jose partial respite from the heavy ash fall. Heavy damage has been inflicted on the 1964-65 coffee crop. The government estimates a crop loss of 20 to 30 per cent. The coffee crop, Costa Rica's chief dollar earner, normally brings in some $45 million annually.

Life at Sorbonne
Series of Crises

Miss Rhonda Cundy and Stephen Jolin, Appleton, are featured in a recent national magazine article on the Sorbonne of Paris. Both are students there.

Miss Cundy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Cundy, 1515 S. Mason St., was graduated in music from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa. Stephen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Jolin, 720 S. Memorial Drive. He is a literature graduate of Lawrence College.

The problems faced by Rhonda, Stephen and other American students are many, the author notes. The first is housing. Very few desirable rooms are available at a reasonable price, and the student often finds himself in poor surroundings or paying a high rent. Rhonda came into an uncomfortable situation when she was referred for housing to a French family. The family of two lived in a three and one-half room apartment which they shared with six boarders, allowing Rhonda no room to practice her music. A Fulbright scholar, in France is advised to align themselves with a student program such as the Sweet Briar Junior Year Abroad program. However, if they wish to come on their own, they are advised to consult a guidance counselor to plan an itinerary.

Organization is sadly lacking at the Sorbonne, the article states. Registration takes several days of standing in long lines. It is common for students to find that, after standing in line for hours, they are in the wrong line and must start the entire process over again.

Once registration is completed, the student is not assured a place in the class. Overcrowding at the Sorbonne has grown to the extent that 1,500 students are attending lectures in halls built to accommodate 800. Students often arrive for classes two hours early to assure themselves of a seat. Some just give up attending lectures.

To enter the Sorbonne, one must pass the baccalaureate examination. This is difficult and takes about 40 per cent of all time. French university candidates must pass the baccalaureate examination. Dior Show
Recalls His
'New Look'

BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Until the model stepped into the New York-Christian Dior showroom in a costume hemmed at mid-calf, the chic audience previewing the fall collection was relaxed and gay.

change made wardrobes obsolete overnight.

The news at the preview was a diversified and sophisticated collection focused around a silhouette spare at the shoulders, eased or loosely belted at the waist, slim over the hips, and then pleated or gored jauntily at the knee.

Dark stockings or jacquard-patterned silk ones, low-heeled walking shoes as well as snoods and byzantine-twisted dome hats that made hairdos absolutely unnecessary, were part of the day-time story.

Two-faced suits at up to $1,000 each could be turned inside out to be worn again in a different color. There also were reversible coats with poverty cloth side up for the income tax collector and the lynx or the mink side up for status.

Mannequins whisked off huge shoulder-to-shoulder bows, a favorite decorative theme on willow evening shifts, and lacy doily-like halter blouses as well as wrist-length sleeves to demonstrate the versatility of the basic but certainly not cheap black dress.

Obviously a dropped hemline, for the girl who loves opulence and hang the cost. Dior had no end of selections of lame, gold-embossed, jewel-embroidered, beaded, quilted and gilded costumes.

College Students Clue Ann 'In' on Coed Pajama Parties

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR READERS: Remember the letter from the college girl who wrote home that she had been invited to a coed pajama party, sponsored by her sorority? The family was shocked and so was I. But, of course, I attended college back around the time the earth's crust cooled and much has changed since then.

I invited the current crop of college students to clue me. They did. By the thousands. I was told that coed pajama parties are very much a part of campus life and I must be square as a chair or I'd have known all about these gay romps — complete with mattresses.

Have a look at the mail: DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please do not print the name of my city or sorority. Two years ago our Greek group gave a pajama party. We removed all the furniture and put mattresses down on the floor which is the custom. We also put a bed in the corner and hired a professional photographer to take pictures of the couples in bed. We thought our parents would get a boot out of the snapshots. We were wrong. Unfortunately, some parents have no sense of humor. They sent up a howl that was heard in the Dean's office. That was the end of pajama parties on our campus and I think it's a shame. They were the best parties of all.

San Bernardino, Calif.: Here at Valley College we have pajama parties and they are approved by the administration so you know they are O.K. Some nut is always trying to push things too far, which happened here last year. A freshman girl showed up in a black sheer nightgown with a matching negligee. She was asked to leave. I'm sorry to say three fellows left with her.

Chicago: At Northwestern the pajama parties are Yawnsville compared with the Evanston splitters.

Terre Haute, Ind.: At state college the pajama parties sponsored by the fraternities and sororities are 100 per cent pure. All Greek letter societies are subject to the rules of the Panhellenic Council and if they weren't decent they'd be axed.

Baltimore: At Johnny Hopkins we have an annual Pajama Ball. Most of the kids wear flannel nightshirts or granny-type nightgowns. They aren't the least bit sexy. You know perfectly well that nothing serious is going to happen when kids are laughing—and these get-ups are side-splitters.

Davenport, Iowa: I went to Morningside College in Sioux City, Iowa when you did (Class of '40) and maybe we didn't have pajama parties but those hayrides and barn parties were pretty swingin' little socials. Retressers.

Dear Whitey: Speak for yourself. Buster. I don't remember a thing.

Ann Arbor, Mich.: At the University of Michigan pajama parties are out - moded. The Roman toga parties are in. We wear bedsheets and sandals.

Ithaca, N. Y.: Relax. Ann, our P.J. parties are tame. Come to Cornell and see for yourself, and please bring your own mattress.

Peoria, Ill.: Here at Bradley we do have coed pajama parties and they are like a Sunday school picnic.

Torrance, Calif.: I never got into trouble at a pajama party. It was at a picnic that I met my Waterloo.

Mrs. Earl Lorenz Marriage Vows Said Saturday

Sacred Heart Catholic Church was the setting for the 10 a.m. Saturday wedding of Miss Carol G Stroessenreuther and Earl A. Lorenz Jr. The Reverend Thom-as Golden performed the double ring wedding of the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy G Stroessen-reuther, 330 W. Seymour St., and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Lorenz Sr., 834 W. Packard St.

Honor attendants for the couple were Miss Ruth Brautigam and Robert Thoma.

The newlyweds were honored at a wedding reception at the home of the bride.

The couple will travel through-out the United States this sum-mer. They plan to make their home in Hawaii.

The bride was employed at the Kimberly-Clark Corp. Her husband was with the Kenron Awning Co.

Less Outagamie County Wives in Labor Market

Special to Post-Crescent

Outagamie County housewives are contradicting national sta-tistics by failing to rush into the job market. Only 24.6 per cent of the married women in the county are working, compared with a national average of 30.7 per cent and a 29.5 per cent in the East North Central States.

The following are the figures for the counties in the surround-ing area:

County	No. Wom. in Labor Force	% Wom. in Lab.	% Married in Lab.	For.
Calumet	2,907	36.1	34.5
Waupaca	4,402	30.7	29.3
Winnebago	14,991	34.4	29.3

In recent years, according to government reports, there has been a steady increase, nation-ally, in the proportion of mar-ried women in the labor force.

One-Third Work

More than one of every three married women in the United States now holds down a job, either part-time or full-time. It was only one out of four 20 years ago.

In most cases, it is pointed out, the increase is tied in with the desire for better living. The wife's check may be used sole-ly to augment her husband's in-come or it may be for their chil-dren's education or for added luxuries.

In some instances, wives take jobs because their children are growing up, leaving them with spare time on their hands.

Fewer Single Girls

The latest Census Bureau fig-ures show that the proportion of Outagamie County's entire adult female population, single as well as married, that has entered the labor force, amounts to 30.9 per cent.

This compares with 34.5 per cent in the rest of the United States and with 34.1 per cent in the State of Wisconsin.

The current estimate of the number of women locally, over age 14, who are holding down jobs or are looking for jobs is 2,321. The estimate is based on an updating of previous figures, in line with the changes that have been noted generally across the country.

All Kinds of Jobs

What kind of work are women doing? All sorts. They are office workers, teachers, salesladies, lawyers, doctors, houseworkers.

Kurt Gross, a Career foreign service officer, poses with his Austrian-born wife, Maria, and son, Martin, in the garden of his parents' home, 711 Hewitt St., Neenah. Mr. and Mrs. Gross met when they were working at the U. S. embassy in Vienna, Austria. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Romantic Image of Austria Is Reality to Kurt Gross

BY JAMES AUER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

NEENAH — Vienna, legend-ary city of waltzes and ro-mance, lived up to its repu-tation for Kurt Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albrecht Gross, 711 Hewitt St.

Mr. Gross, a career foreign service officer, was assigned to the U.S. embassy in the Austrian capital in the spring of 1960. Two and one-half years later, he returned to the United States with an Aus-trian bride, the former Maria Guger, of Vienna.

Mrs. Gross has since pre-sented her husband with a sturdy son, Martin, now 9½ months old, and is rapidly adapting herself to American ways.

She's learned, to her sur-prise, that flavored gelatin in the United States is often served as a salad, and not exclusively as a dessert. And she's forced herself to serve spinach with other dishes than fried eggs, boiled beef or veal cutlets.

"In Austria, goulash is never eaten with a salad," she de-clares with a touch of indig-nation. "And a salad means potatoes with vinegar and oil."

Flavored gelatin is a dessert, not a salad. Spinach is only eaten with fried eggs, boiled beef and veal cutlets.

Aside from such minor breaches of the Austrian dietary code, however, Maria is delighted by the United States and by those Americans she has met since her arrival 18 months ago.

"I like it," she says of American life. "Of course, I worked for the embassy, and with Americans, for 10 years."

As an embassy employee, Maria was among the first persons Kurt met when he entered the building for the first time that spring day four years ago.

"He really couldn't help it," says Maria of their initial encounter, "nor could I."

The couple became engaged in March, 1962, and received State Department approval of their marriage in September of that year. They were mar-ried that fall in Vienna's his-torian, Dorotheer church, built in 1796.

After their honeymoon, the Grosses returned to Wash-ington, where Mr. Gross was assigned to the State Depart-ment's office on disarmament.

garian revolution. It has served as a major point of asy-lum from the East.

Dramatic Decline

The last decade has seen a dramatic decline in the num-ber of Austrians sympathetic to the Communist party.

"In 1952, there were 25 Communist families in our neighborhood," Maria Gross recalls. "By 1956, there was only one left. The Communists reached a high of eight per cent of the vote after World War II, but a few years ago they lost their only seat in parliament."

When Khrushchev and Ken-nedy met in Austria, so the story goes, there were so few people willing to applaud the Soviet leader that they would assemble on a corner, cheer as he went by, then clamber on a truck to be driven ahead to the next corner he was scheduled to pass.

In this way Khrushchev was cheered by the same people again and again as he made his "triumphal" progress across the city.

Guard towers and mine-fields on the border between Austria and Hungary have virtually ended the flight of anti-Communists from the East, but a trickle of refu-gees continues to seek asylum in Austria.

"With the mines," Maria says, "nobody chances it any more, except when the ground is frozen in the winter."

Special sports events some-times offer Iron Curtain resi-dents a chance to cross the border, however.

"When a soccer match was held in Budapest," Mr. Gross noted, "you could count on at least 10 persons escaping in the trunks of Western au-tomobiles."

A graduate of the Univer-sity of Wisconsin, where he majored in international rela-tions, Mr. Gross served with the Army for two years. On his discharge, he spent a year in the advertising depar-tment of a Milwaukee news-paper and helped two friends found an advertising agency, before taking the competitive foreign service examination.

He received his foreign service appointment in 1957, and spent nearly three years in specialized training and working with the aviation and maritime divisions of the state Department's Bureau of Economic affairs, before be-ing assigned to Vienna.

Only Child Asks Mother Why No Brothers, Sisters

BY DR. EVE JONES

DEAR DR. JONES: My six-year-old son just squirms and year-old daughter keeps asking wiggles when I try, and my wife me why she doesn't have any sisters or broth-ers. How can I tell her in a way that she'll understand that I had a hyster-ectomy shortly after she was born? Mrs. F. G.

Dr. Jones

She's probably asking this question frequently because she knows it bothers you. Check to see if you and her father have kept up-to-date in the way you treat her. And correct matters if you're still treating her too much like an infant.

If she knows all the facts discussed in my pamphlet, "The Facts of Life for Your Pre-School Child," she can understand it if you explain your situation using simple lan-guage. Say, "The part in me where a baby grows inside of a mother was very sick, and the doctor had to take it out; so I can't have another baby."

Dear DR. JONES: How old does a child have to be before he can be interested by having books read to him? My two-year-old daughter keeps asking wiggles when I try, and my wife isn't interested for long, and he spends most of the time trying to rip or crumple or turn the pages before I'm done reading them.

MR. J. T.

Get picture books printed on cloth. They can't be torn. Then let him hold one and turn the pages while you name the objects on the pictures. Don't spend more than a few seconds on each page—he gets bored looking at the same picture for longer than that. And don't expect to look at more than a few pictures at a single "reading" session.

Some children still like be-ing read to when they're as young as a year old. But now-adays, most children prefer television. At least until they're old enough to have enough imagination for story books. That happens when they're about four years old or older.

Let Not the Right Hand Get in Act

People are so nose nowadays that you can't stop the right hand from knowing what the left hand is doing. The modern proverb should read: Let not the right hand mess about in red aces at the very least. People have been known to lose a trump trick in circumstances like yours, and there is even some danger of losing two diamonds instead of only one.

Since all readers of this column have the courage of lions (and also since you have surely noticed that the trumps are going to make no fuss), you do not flinch. You win the first trick with the ace of clubs and look around for something clever to do.

Your next move had better be really brilliant, for if you win the first trick with the ace of clubs you have already given the right hand opponent his chance to mess about.

Will Lead Diamonds
Sooner or later you must draw trumps and knock out the ace of hearts. If West can get the lead to his partner, by way of the king of clubs, East will return a diamond. And there goes your contract, my lion-hearted friend.

Now go back to the first trick and try being a rabbit instead of a lion. Refuse that first trick. If West continues with the jack of clubs, refuse that also. Save the ace of clubs to capture East's king.

You are quite willing to let West win the two club tricks that the defenders are sure to take. Whenever you do get in, you will draw trumps and lead the king of hearts. Since East cannot lead through your king of diamonds, the defenders can get only two clubs and two red aces.

Disorders Shown by Eyes First

Did you know that good nutrition is as basic to good eyesight as it is to good health?

There's a strong and intimate correlation. Vital nutrients are carried to the eye by the fluids of the body, and many food elements play specific roles in the proper functioning of your eyes.

Often, metabolic disorders elsewhere in the body first appear as a refractive defect or ocular symptom.

Vitamin A, for example, is needed for the chemical reaction involving visual purple which takes place in the retina and is the beginning of the visual process. Its shortage is reflected in poor adaptation to the dark. It is also needed to maintain health and moistness in the cornea, the transparent part of the coat of the eyeball which admits light.

Deficiencies of the B-complex vitamins may result in aversion to light, eyelid inflammation and loss of vision. Vitamins C and K are anti-hemorrhagic in effect and help to make the eye more resistant to injury. Proteins, carbohydrates, and eye-sight.

Wisconsin Wire Tells Plans To Relocate

Firm to Stay in City, Official Says; Plant for Sale

Wisconsin Wire Works has its plant at 1002 N. Meade St. up for sale and is projecting plans for relocating in Appleton, it was disclosed today.

James E. Watson, president and general manager of the firm which is an exclusive manufacturer of wire cloth for the paper industry, confirmed the company's expansion plans but could not elaborate.

The plant and parking lot cover a square block area on Appleton's northeast side. Buildings provide 80,000 square feet of floor space.

In an advertisement today in the Post-Crescent, it was announced that the property is for sale or lease in whole or part. The point is made that the firm, which employs an estimated 130 persons, has outgrown the property and plans on relocating.

'Plans For Building'
"We do have plans for building and want to rebuild right here in the Appleton area," Watson commented.

"That is all I can say at the present time pending negotiations for selling or leasing our present building and property," Watson added.

Watson made his statement to spike any rumor that the firm may be leaving this area.

"Our business is growing and we intend to rebuild here in the paper center of the world," Watson said. He explained that one purpose of the advertisement was to let the public know of the company's position.

Past 10 Years
About 60 per cent of the Wisconsin Wire Works plant complex was constructed over the past 10 years. There are three truck loading docks. Railroad siding is available if needed.

Shop and general offices of the firm are air conditioned. Watson said the firm's expansion and relocation has been in the planning stage for several months.

"As soon as our future plans are finalized we will have a public announcement," Watson said.

Firm Would Supply Patrol Car for $87.50 a Month

An auto leasing firm has offered to rent county traffic patrol cars for $87.50 per month per car, Outagamie County's traffic committee learned today.

The committee has received one written bid for leasing the cars. According to Chairman Norman Austin, Town of Oneida, others were asked, but did not supply written bids.

Austin said more figures would be compiled before any definite move could be made toward leasing cars. Austin said the "true cost" of the lease as opposed to private ownership could not be learned until the county went into a lease program for a certain amount of time.

Auto Leasing Co., 211 W. College Ave., in its written bid stated it would provide specified passenger cars with a monthly rental of 3 per cent of the billing price. Cost of the unit was estimated at $2,500. Rental would be $75 plus $12.50 for interest.

The car may be traded after 50,000 miles and will be appraised for trade value on a new car, the firm stated.

The county's civil service and salary committee is also studying the county transportation problem and will turn its information over to the traffic committee.

Shaggy Dog Story Clears Up 'Breakin' at Black Creek

An unknown shaggy dog pursued by a clanging tin can tied to his tail may be the culprit sought in an early morning break-in at the Black Creek Bowling alley-barber shop, Outagamie County sheriff authorities have concluded.

First reports indicated a burglar may have smashed the large plate glass in the door to gain entry to the barber shop. Blood was spattered on the floor near the broken glass and on the barber shop floor.

Authorities followed the blood trail through several yards and toward an open swamp near the village.

Investigation at the shop also uncovered clumps of animal hair. A conservation warden was called and identified

Village Plans Referendum on Power Utility

Combined Locks to Decide July 7 on Buying South Shore

COMBINED LOCKS—The village board, at a special meeting Thursday night, scheduled a July 7 referendum to determine whether the village should purchase the South Shore Utility at a price to be determined by the Public Service Commission.

South Shore Utility, owned by Combined Locks Paper Co., was granted a franchise to provide electrical power to the community in January, 1929. South Shore provides electrical service to 37 customers and purchases power from the Kaukauna Electric and Water Utility.

Kaukauna provides electrical power to residents of the eastern part of the village and Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. provides power for those in the western half. There are two electrical rates in the community.

Oppose Sale
Wisconsin Michigan Power entered into negotiations to purchase South Shore and its franchise to serve the community. Sale price was reported to be $40,000. The Kaukauna Electric and Water Utility filed objections to the sale as did Combined Locks after receiving petitions, signed by 582 village residents, opposing the sale.

Signers included persons receiving service from South Shore, Kaukauna and Wisconsin Michigan utilities. A public hearing on the proposed sale is being held by Wisconsin Public Service Commission at 9 a.m. Tuesday at the courthouse in Appleton.

New Judicial Unit May Draft Ethics Code

State High Court Decision Confirms 'Platform Pledge'

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — Drafting of a code of judicial ethics for possible adoption as a rule by the State Supreme Court probably will be one of the first projects of a new Judicial Conference of Wisconsin, it has been reported here.

The court has announced the establishment of the conference, to be composed of the seven members of the body, all of the circuit court judges and county court judges.

The court act represents a confirmation of a "platform pledge" of Justice Horace Wilkie of Madison during his campaign for an elective term on the court next spring.

To Improve Performance
Purpose of the new organization will be to improve the administration of justice and to conduct instructive programs and seminars to improve judicial performance, the court said.

"It is anticipated that this new body will be a great step forward in the administration of justice in Wisconsin," the State Bar of Wisconsin observed in a bulletin reporting the creation of the conference.

John E. Martin, a former chief justice of the supreme court who is now the state court administrator, has been named as chief planner of the meetings.

At least one general assembly of the conference members will be held each year, the court said.

Plan Unit Wants Fish Kill Study

Wolf River Commission Says State Should Have Done More

The Wolf River Regional Planning Commission has called for a "thorough-going investigation" of the causes of the Lake Winnebago fish kill.

In a letter addressed last week to L. P. Voigt, director of the Wisconsin Conservation Department, commission chairman Gordon A. Bubolz criticized the "mere issuance of a statement" released by the department's Oshkosh office after a study of the situation.

The statement, released May 25, stated that algae were the cause of the dead fish and that their removal was the responsibility of local property owners.

"It was my opinion," Bubolz wrote, "that the Conservation Department had an obligation to cooperate more fully with regard to this problem than the mere issuance of a statement as to the cause of the fish kill and that it could do nothing further about it."

He continued, "I felt that a more helpful position was called for under the circumstances including a team effort with the State Board of Health whose direction and control was definitely called for by the situation."

Under present state statutes, health officers of various cities, villages and towns affected by the fish kill are responsible for cleaning up the dead fish. State agencies cannot directly participate in the cleanup because of limitations imposed by the internal improvements of the Wisconsin constitution.

Bubolz said that he did "not believe that from a public health standpoint a reference to the limitation to the internal improvements provision to the constitution can be set up as a defense of a policy of no action."

The commission chairman also criticized the fact that a sample of the dead fish sent to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service laboratory in LaCrosse would be analyzed for bacterial and parasitic diseases—not anything that would consider chemical and insecticidal residues.

"Conservation Calamity"
"The unprecedented proportions and magnitude of the fish kill approaches a conservation calamity," he wrote. "This is a serious setback to the fishery resources of the area."

Because of the "widespread and strong public sentiment in regard to the matter," Bubolz wrote, "a thorough-going investigation of all possible phases and contributing factors of the fish kill should be gone into."

He called for a "very special and coordinated effort in which the State Board of Health, the U.S. Department of Health, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the Wisconsin Conservation Department and the Corps of Engineers should be included."

"Warrants Investigation"
While the commission did "not wish to minimize the fact that an early production of algae may have been a factor in the fish kill," Bubolz wrote, "the seriousness of the situation certainly warrants an investigation of the chemical causation factors."

If the constitution did limit state participation in any investigation, Bubolz wrote, "The Wolf River Regional Planning Commission has a duty and responsibility to make recommendations to the member counties and their legislative representatives in respect to problems of this nature."

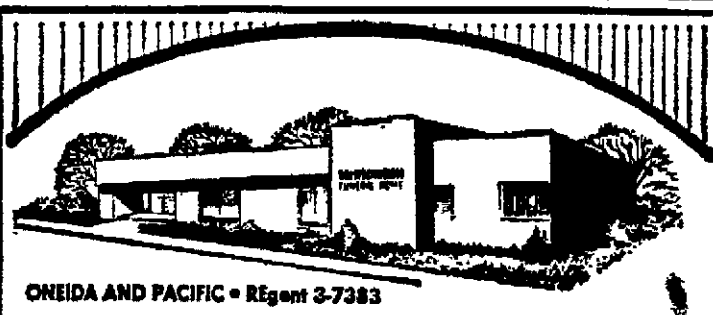

Member counties of the commission include Outagamie, Winnebago, Waupaca, Shawano, Menominee, Forest and Langlade counties.

pages of history, surely none could be more ghastly than racial warfare," Garrison said. "Yet this is a possibility which we must soberly take into consideration."

Attack Poverty

He urged an immediate and concerted attack on world poverty by the materially advanced countries, possibly under United States auspices, and also said the United States had "shortsightedly" cut itself off from any communication with Red China.

"Every dictate of Wisdom calls for a reversal of that policy," Garrison said. "Isolation results in mutual ignorance, and ignorance breeds suspicion, fear and recklessness."

Garrison was one of five men named to receive honorary degrees from the university today. The others are Irwin Maier, president of The Journal Co., and publisher of The Milwaukee Journal and the Milwaukee Sentinel; Alexander Melikjohn, educator and creator of the UW experimental college; Donald C. Slichter, president of Milwaukee's Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., and Edward L. Tatum, professor at the Rockefeller Institute of New York City.

Beloit College graduates were told that commitment to a cause—that of helping others attain the privileges and opportunities we enjoy—can offer Americans the greatest personal satisfaction and the greatest hope for the future.

Paul G. Hoffman, managing director of the United Nations special fund, told 204 seniors at baccalaureate exercises that "the central fact of all our lives and all your future is the world-wide revolution of rising, un-realized, expectations as people in the underdeveloped nations reach out to claim lives of dignity and decency for themselves and their children."

More than 600 graduates of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee were told by Gov. John W. Reynolds Sunday to "help solve the greatest problem of our century in America—the struggle for equal rights for all citizens."

The governor said he was "confident that we are about to solve this problem and the great problems of poverty and disease but we need your help."

Expect Return Of Post Office Addition Plan

Menasha Project to Cost Estimated
$430,000 in Revision

MENASHA — Architects of Grassolt, Johnson, Wagner and Isley Inc., Milwaukee, today said preliminary plans for construction of a 16,500 foot addition to the Menasha post office are expected to be returned from the General Services Administration with recommendations this week.

The preliminary plans, along with an estimate of cost, were sent to the GSA for study in early May.

Preliminary costs of the project is $430,000, approximately $50,000 more than estimated by Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) several months ago. Earlier this year it was announced the post office would cost approximately $380,000. The project in the very early stages was expected to cost up to $500,000.

Architects this morning said their firm has one month after receiving the preliminary plans from the GSA to complete the next phase of the project and to present new preliminary estimates based on changes or additions advised by the GSA.

A spokesman for the company said no predictions have been made on GSA recommendations. He noted, however, that the plans are not a yes or no decision, rather one of recommendation on increases or decreases or variations in plans.

Final plans for the project are expected to be complete sometime in December.

To First Street Jack Slom, job captain, said plans call for the post office to be expanded to First Street, taking in the area now occupied by a service station.

A much greater area of expansion will occur than first announced, according to Slom. Slom said the addition will increase the postal facility by 16,500 feet. An earlier announcement said the extension would increase the facilities from the present gross interior square feet to 17,620 square feet.

Work Rooms Most of the expansion will be in work rooms. A full basement will be constructed.

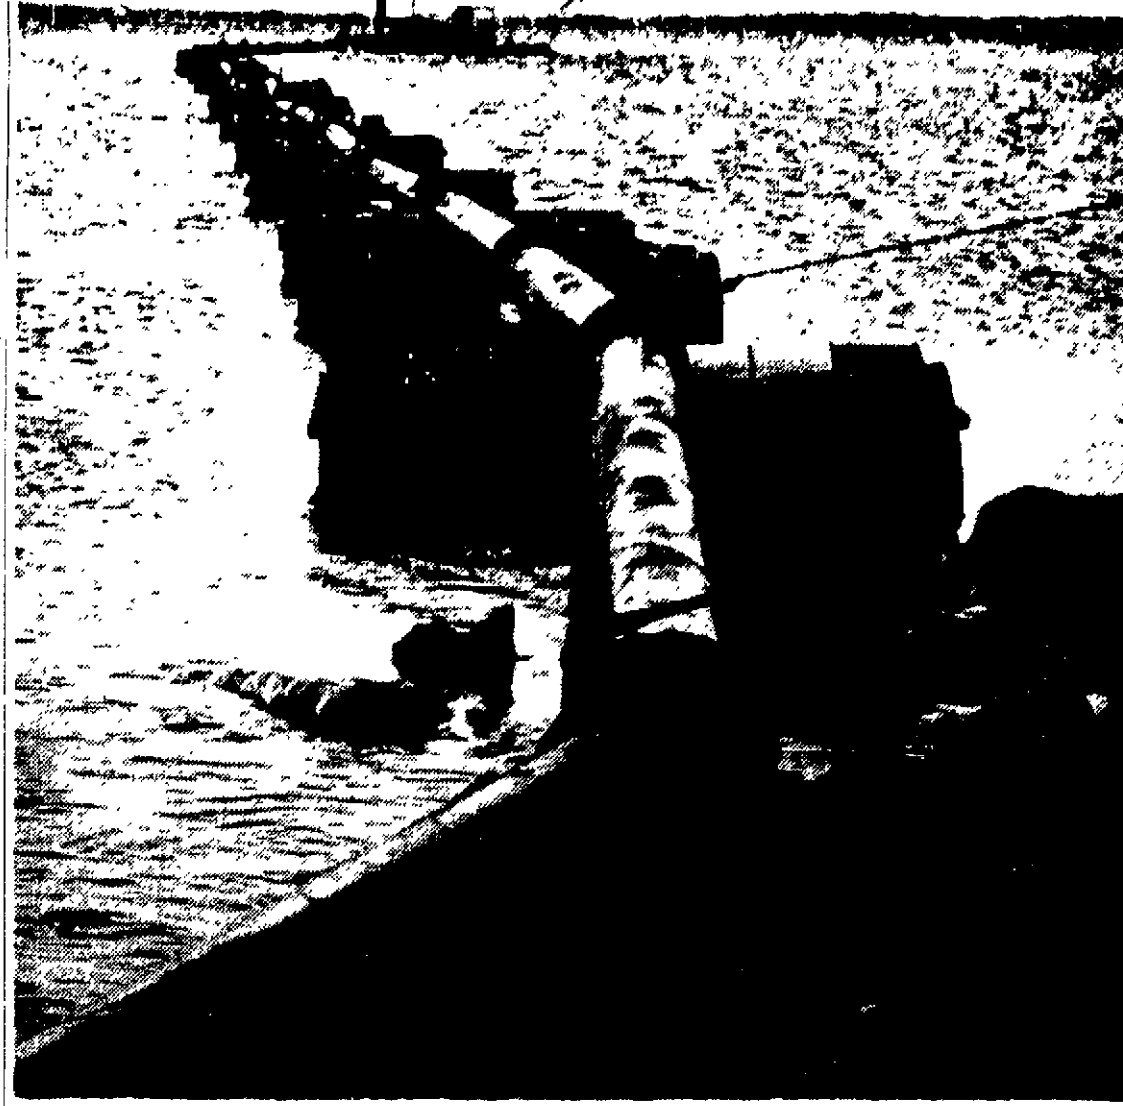

Construction is tentatively set for April of 1965.

Sen. Proxmire announced June 28, 1963, approval of the project by the postoffice department.

OSHKOSH — Indifference to evil is a deadly cancer which slowly eats away at orderly government, Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane charged in his keynote speech addressed to the Wisconsin Clerks of Courts Association convention here this morning.

Close to 225 persons have registered for the annual convention of the Clerks of Courts, County Treasurers and Registers of Deeds Associations. The convention opened Sunday with a joint session and went into individual conferences today. It will close Wednesday.

Judge Cane criticized those who complain of corruption or injustice but who refuse to lift a finger to expose or correct it. "Their favorite excuse," he said, "is 'why stick your neck out?'"

Self-Governing Law and order as a symbol is that which comes from a national policy adopted back in hisper Company is underwriting costs.

Appleton Man Pulled From Menasha Channel After Near Drowning

MENASHA — Walter Mielke, 47, 538 N. State St., Appleton, was reported in satisfactory condition at Theda Clark Memorial Hospital this morning where he was taken late Sunday after narrowly escaping drowning in waters off Jefferson Park in Menasha.

Mielke was reported to have been pulled from the water by David Engblom, 124 Cecil St., Neenah, and Bud Rosenow of Grant Street, Neenah.

Police said Mielke had been picnicking with friends when he decided to go swimming. This was at approximately 7 p.m. Members of the picnic party said Mielke swam out approximately 30 feet and then apparently ran into trouble. He shouted for help. Three of the picnic members were unable to bring Mielke into shore. However, Engblom and Rosenow passed in a boat and helped pull him onto docks in the park.

He was taken to Theda Clark Hospital by Lindy's Ambulance Service for treatment.

Goldwater Vote is Approaching 600

Arizona Senator Favored To Win Most Delegates In Montana and Texas

BY LARRY OSIUS
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's drive for Republican presidential nominating delegates is expected to near the 600 mark this week as 146 delegates are chosen in 10 states.

With the GOP convention opening five weeks from today, the Arizona senator has 535 first ballot votes according to an Associated Press survey of delegates already chosen. He needs just 120 more—555 for a first ballot victory.

Indications are that Goldwater will pick up enough votes this week to boost his front running total near the 600 mark and set the stage for the last two state conventions next week in Montana and Texas.

Goldwater Favored
Goldwater will be favored to win most of those delegates, apparently giving him enough to win the nomination.

But Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., said Sunday he thought

Win Expected At Republican Convention
Solid and Open Opposition Might Derail Goldwater

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater figures that it would take the solid and open opposition of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton to derail his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

The Arizona senator indicates he sees no chance of that.

"If they did that, I'd probably step out anyway," Goldwater told newsmen Sunday night as he flew back from Chester, Pa. "A thing like that would tear the party apart."

Goldwater said earlier that all three men have disavowed any part of an effort to stop his candidacy to head the ticket.

Full Swing
He said if he wins the nomination he will "allow my party full swing" in choosing a vice presidential candidate. Goldwater said he thinks party leaders would want to balance the ticket by choosing an Easterner of moderate Republican views to share the ticket.

Goldwater added if he were Scranton he would be thinking about a bid for the vice presidency.

He said if Scranton had second place on a Republican ticket which failed to beat President Johnson the Pennsylvania governor would be in a position to claim the presidential nomination in 1968.

Goldwater told a news conference at Chester that he, Scranton and Nixon "are all very close together on Republican

Christine Keeler Out of Prison

LONDON (AP) — Christine Keeler, 22, the red-haired prostitute who once shook the British government, was released from Holloway Prison today.

She had served six months of a nine-month sentence for perjury and conspiring to obstruct justice. She had tried to frame a Negro ex-lover, jazz singer Aloysius (Lucky) Gordon, with testimony that he beat her up.

Christine's perjury trial was part of the aftermath of a sex and security scandal which brought John D. Profumo's resignation as war minister a year ago and threatened to tumble Prime Minister Harold Macmillan from power. Macmillan rode out the storm but resigned a few months later because of his health.

Christine got three months off her sentence for good behavior.

War Unlikely Between Giants Of Communism

Specialist Says Russia and China May Grow Apart

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:
RED RIVALRY: The clash between the Soviet Union and China "most probably" will lead to a complete break but war between the Communist giants is unlikely, writes Dr. Mose L. Harvey, a State Department specialist on communism for 17 years, in the current issue of U.S. News & World Report.

"As things now are and seem likely to continue for the indefinite future, neither has the slightest thing to gain from a military showdown," Harvey wrote in the copyright article. He recently left the government to become director of the Center for Advanced International Studies at the University of Miami.

PRAYER: The Bill of Rights is "our most precious heritage" and any narrowing of its present guarantees in the field of religion could impair the other liberties it protects, 223 constitutional lawyers told the House Judiciary Committee in opposing any amendment to permit public school religious exercises.

The committee last week completed hearings on proposed amendments. The chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., has not yet set a date for closed deliberations on the various proposals.

RED BLOC: Former Secretary of State Christian Herter says there is a growing independence from Moscow in Romania, Czechoslovakia and Hungary, particularly in the economic field, "and I think we ought to encourage that."

Herter, who is serving President Johnson as a special representative for trade negotiations at Geneva, voiced approval of the recent extension of most-favored-nation treatment to Poland and Yugoslavia and said the United States should use trade concessions to encourage Communist satellites to be independent.

COMMUNION: President Johnson, a member of the Christian Church, received communion Sunday at St. Mark's Episcopal church. His wife and daughter are Episcopalians.

Last month, the Rev. Canon Albert J. Du Bois, executive director of the American Church Union, a voluntary association of Episcopal clergy and laity, questioned whether the president is eligible to receive communion.

He is, said the rector of St. Mark's, the Rev. William M. Baxter, and the Episcopal bishop of Washington, the Right Rev. William F. Creighton.

FOREIGN LOANS: Postwar repayment records indicate the United States will get back a large proportion of the dollars loaned for foreign aid, plus billions more in interest.

Of $25.7 billion loaned abroad by the U.S. government since World War II, the foreign recipients have paid back $10 billion on the principal so far plus $4 billion in interest, Commerce Department statistics showed Sunday.

Donations May Halt Eviction Of Negro Singer, 11 Children

PERIGUEUX, France (AP)—Thanks to a burst of generosity from admirers, Negro singer Josephine Baker may be able to save her children's village at nearby Milandes.

A flood of donations have been pouring into a special account to prevent the eviction Tuesday night of Miss Baker and her 11 adopted children.

The star announced last week that she was broke and heavily in debt. Her 12th century chateau at Milandes and its furnishings were to be sold at auction Tuesday unless she could satisfy her creditors.

Movie star Brigitte Bardot made a radio-television appeal for Miss Baker. It was an unusual gesture for Miss Bardot, who had never met Miss Baker and detests the glare of television lights.

The French television office was deluged with calls asking where to send the checks.

Miss Baker says she needs $400,000 to get the chateau at Milandes into the black for good.

She has adopted children of various races to conduct a living demonstration of racial understanding. The children—all but one of them boys—are between 4 and 12 years old. They came from places as distant as Japan, Africa, South America and Finland.

Several years ago Miss Baker decided she would try to develop Milandes as a tourist attraction that would provide her children with a steady income.

State GOP Candidates to Meet With Nixon

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
All of Wisconsin's endorsed Republican candidates for statewide office have been invited to a meeting with former Vice President Richard Nixon, and all GOP state legislators have been asked to a conference with governor candidate Warren Knowles.

Nixon is scheduled to speak Saturday night at the party's $100-a-plate fund raising dinner in Milwaukee. But before that he will attend a meeting of the state party's executive committee, state Chairman Talbot Peterson of Appleton said Sunday night.

Peterson also said that all of the party's endorsed candidates for state office had been invited to the meeting.

Knowles' campaign director, Ody Fish of Waukesha, said Sunday that Knowles has asked the GOP lawmakers to a Tuesday meeting at Ripon to discuss fall campaign plans.

Fish said there was no foundation for reports that the conference was called because of criticisms that Knowles had been "too easy" on Democratic Gov. John W. Reynolds.

Fish said "it is a perfectly normal and regular procedure for the candidate for governor to get together with other candidates following endorsement so that strategy can be outlined for the upcoming campaign."

Kennedy Undecided On Political Course In the Near Future

Attorney General Denies Survey Taken to Determine His Chances

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy who, until now, has discouraged in uncertain terms those who want to run him for vice president, said Sunday he hasn't made up his mind whether he wants the job.

The same goes for another suggestion that he run for senator in New York.

The question, as posed by a newsman, was:

"Mr. Attorney General, would you like to be a candidate for vice president?"

And Kennedy replied, "I just haven't made up my mind yet."

This could indicate that the attorney general, who repeatedly has pulled the rug out from under vice presidential backers, isn't sure yet what his decision would be even if President Lyndon B. Johnson tapped him as his Democratic running mate.

Dealt Brusquely
Kennedy dealt brusquely with groups in New Hampshire and in Wisconsin that sought support for him as a vice presidential candidate. In both cases, the Department of Justice sent telegrams declaring that the attorney general would have no part in the movement and asking organizers to give up their efforts.

Urged Graduates
Kennedy urged the 1,419 members of the biggest graduating class in the history of the Roman Catholic university to devote their talents to correcting the inequities of American society.

He declared, "Our scientists grapple with the difficulties of placing a man on the moon, but the immediate troubling concern in our society is whether men of different races can sit together at a lunch counter."

Kennedy opened his whirlwind six-hour Milwaukee visit with a news conference. He said it was essential that Congress pass a civil rights bill to demonstrate to the Negro population that the white majority is willing to take the step that will help clear some inequities. But he warned that there would be "problems" this summer whether it passes or not.

Group Travel Urged In Wave of Violence

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1½ million Roman Catholics in Brooklyn and Queens are being urged to travel in groups and by daylight as much as possible because of violence on New York streets and subways.

"Make every possible effort to confine church meetings and family socials to the daylight and afternoons, even on Saturday from Chicago accompanied days and Sundays," said a letter read in churches Sunday.

Arena Jammed
The Milwaukee Arena was jammed to its 12,000-seat capacity when Kennedy was presented with an honorary doctor of laws degree by Marquette University. The crowd gave him an ovation when he declared, "Wisconsin has a special feeling in the minds and hearts of all Kennedys."

The late President John F. Kennedy's campaign met its first crucial test in Wisconsin in 1960. It was here that the bandwagon began rolling toward the White House.

"I doubt if there's a community in Wisconsin that hasn't had a visit from some Kennedy," the attorney general said. "We

Drama Teacher Joins New Summer Theater

State College Company to Open Five-Play Season June 17 on Stevens Point Campus

Paul Richer, Oconomowoc High School teacher who has played in or directed plays on three continents, is the first member to join the new Wisconsin State College Summer Theatre acting company.

The theater will produce five plays this summer on the Stevens Point campus with the season scheduled to begin June 17. Dr. Pauline Isaacson, chairman of the speech and drama department at the college, is in charge of the new project.

Season tickets for the five plays to be presented between June 17 and July 31 are available from Dr. Isaacson. The plays are billed for Wednesday and Friday night performances and matinees on Thursdays.

The acting company, according to Dr. Isaacson, will include 10 performers and a directing staff of four. A theater workshop for six college credits also is available to a limited number of student workers.

Kate Smith Injured By Walking Into Plate Glass Door

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Singer Kate Smith was severely cut when she walked through a plate glass door Sunday.

Dr. Walter R. Newbern, said 25 stitches were required to close the wounds. The accident occurred at a home where Miss Smith, 55, has been in seclusion since the recent death of Ted Collins, her longtime manager and friend.

In 1957, he acted with the 10th Division Touring Theater which crisscrossed West Germany playing "The Rainmaker" and an original musical drama which he co-authored with Dr. Richard Byrne, now of the University of Wisconsin.

One-Night Stands
 In commenting upon the tour he said, "We played one night stands with our own arena stage that we carried with us in the back of a deuce-and-a-half truck."

Africa attracted Richer and his family in 1959, and for 3½ years he directed plays with Nigerian students. During this time he directed an all-girl cast in an outdoor performance of "Julius Caesar" which was given by kerosene light for an audience of hundreds, many of which knew no English.

Pirate Television Station Being Built Off Holland's Coast

ROTTERDAM, the Netherlands (AP)—A pirate television station is being built in the North Sea 5½ miles off the Dutch coast.

The station, outside territorial waters, is believed the first of its kind. Previously, private companies have set up radio stations off the European coast to evade bans against commercial broadcasting.

However, the Dutch government submitted legislation to Parliament last month bringing all artificial installations on the North Sea continental shelf under jurisdiction of the Netherlands.

Foxes Win 11-2, on 3-Hitter by Zink

Tom Hadley, Left, won his third Adler Brau golf championship in four years at the Bridgewood Course in Neenah Sunday with a 140 total for the 36-hole test. The ban who broke Hadley's string in 1962 and the runnerup to Hadley Sunday with a 143 score is Don Strutz, right. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Hadley Becomes First 3-Time Ruler Of Adler Tourney

Fires 2-Under-Par 140; Strutz Finishes Three Strokes Behind

BY TERRY GALVIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Tom Hadley, the "Arnie Palmer" of the Adler Brau, became the first golfer in the 10-year history of the tournament to successfully defend his championship with a 36-hole score of 140, two under par, Sunday at Bridgewood Golf Course.

Hadley, playing out of Neenah Ridgeway Country Club, fashioned a 1-under par 70 Sunday to go along with Saturday's 70. Another former winner (twice) Don Strutz, Appleton, garnered the runnerup laurels with 143.

Strutz opened with a 70 and tacked on a 73.

Appleton's Don Jabas, tied with Hadley and Strutz after Saturday's play with 70s, recorded a 74 for a 144 total and a third-place tie with Fox Valley Club's Wayne Hull.

Herb Stinski toured the par 35-71 Bridgewood layout with rounds of 70 and 71 to win the Senior Championship laurels.

Other champions were Mike Boyd, "A" Flight; Clyde Abba, "B" Flight and Appleton's Ed Verbrick, Senior "A" Flight.

Hadley's victory in the 1964 "Adler," likened to Palmer's "Masters" domination, also gave him the honor of being the first 3-time winner. He won in 1961 and '63. Strutz won the crown in 1958 and '62.

Breaks Tie

Hadley wasted no time in breaking the three-way tie, firing a two-under par 33 on the front side. Jabas was one-under

MANITOWOC—Manitowoc exploded on Bob Schuler's bases-loaded single to take a 4-1 win from Two Rivers here Sunday for its third straight Fox River Valley League baseball win after an opening-day loss.

The two runs scored were enough for the win, but Bob Lutz added insurance with a home run in the seventh inning.

Only one walk was issued in the control ball game, although both pitchers struck out five apiece. Bob Ayers took the victory, while Jerry Kroening absorbed the loss.

Pete Ward Will Appear Tonight

BY MIKE WALTER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Tom Zink, making only his second start of the campaign, hurled a 3-hitter in pitching Fox Cities to an 11-2 victory over Decatur at Goodland Field Sunday afternoon.

The Foxes will close out the 2-game set against the Commodores tonight with festivities planned for former team member Pete Ward, now starring for the Chicago White Sox. Ward will sign autographs and take batting practice with the Foxes before the game.

The "Valley Fair Shopping Center Day" crowd Sunday, largest of the season, saw Zink add a pair of singles and a run in the second and blank Decatur until a triple in the ninth accounted for the other run.

Collect 13 Hits

Meanwhile, Zink's mates were battering starter Nestor Chavez, a 16-year-old righthander, for 13 hits. Every man in the Foxes' lineup had at least one safety, with Fred Rico showing the way with a homer and double.

The Foxes hit Decatur with six runs in the third inning, permanently breaking a 1-1 tie. Zink, John Sepich and John Matias all coined singles, loading the bases for Chavez' walk to Rico. Steve Huntz followed with a single, knocking in a pair of runs and taking second on an aimless throw to the plate.

The Commodores' next strategy was to walk Ray Wolkowski, a .129 hitter, and try for a double play. Stan Walters crossed them up, however, hitting in his 11th straight game with a bloop single to left which drove in two runs. Wolkowski scored, as the left fielder's throw to the plate hit him in the back.

After Rico unloaded a 350-footer over the left field wall in the fifth, the Foxes re-jumped on Chavez for three runs in the sixth.

The big blow was Matias' second double of the day, a drive to the right field wall with two men on. Shortly after, with

Ken Huebner's Hit In Ninth Brings 1 to 0 Victory

FREEDOM — Larry Huebner, fanning 18 and walking none, fired a 5-hitter against Oshkosh to lead Freedom to a 1-0 Fox River Valley Baseball League victory here Sunday.

The victory was No. 3 for Freedom against one loss. Oshkosh is 0-2 in loop action.

The victors scored the lone tally of the game in the bottom of the ninth inning. With one out, Bob Maulick worked losing hurler Dave Reamer for a walk. Maulick advanced on a pickoff error and Dick Zeratsky drew a walk.

Ken Huebner then came up with one of Freedom's four hits. He blooped a single to right-center, scoring Maulick from second.

Reamer was relieved by Pete Kaul after the free pass to Zeratsky.

KAUKAUNA—Faye Mehlberg stopped the Kaukauna Klubbers on five hits as defending champion Little Chute - Kimberly notched a 7-2 decision in Fox River Valley League action here Sunday.

The win gave LC-K a 4-0 record and retention of first place. Kaukauna is 2-2 on the season.

The victors jumped on losing pitcher Leigh Wachel in the fourth inning for a pair of runs. Phil Williams survived on an error and scored on a double by Hank Peerenboom. Peerenboom scored later on Dick Mulry's sacrifice.

The Klubbers bounced back with a lone tally in their half of the inning. Jerry DeBruin was safe on an error, advanced on another error and took third on a fielder's choice. He scored on a sacrifice fly by Carl Bowers. Jim Kilsdonk doubled for the

Williams and Banks Blast 2-Run Homers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves hit the road hoping for a reversal in form today after taking a big choke on cooking during a stand at once friendly County Stadium.

The Braves limped out of town with a .500 record—25-25—after dropping a 5-2 decision to the Chicago Cubs Sunday before a crowd of 23,684. Even their staunchest fans were glad to see the Braves go for awhile.

Unable to get momentum from a two-run, ninth inning rally in a 6-3 victory over the Cubs Saturday, the Braves dropped the deciding game of the three-set series between the "neighborhood" rivals.

However, the Braves remained in sixth place, a half game ahead of the Cubs and 5 1/2 behind front - running San Francisco, as they headed for Houston and the opening of a 10-game road trip tonight.

Milwaukee southpaw Denny Lemaster, who had won five straight games and owned a 7-2 record, had fans thinking of a no-hitter for more than three innings in the Chicago finale. Then the roof caved in.

Aaron Homers

The Braves tied the count in the fifth. Lemaster led off with a double to right center and Lee Maye walked. Lemaster then was picked off second base as Ty Cline failed in a sacrifice bunt attempt.

Maye advanced to second as Cline grounded out and Hank Aaron then cracked his sixth homer, a line shot over the left field wall.

The Cubs moved in front to stay in the sixth on Joe Amalfitano single, a fielder's choice, and Billy Williams' 15th homer, a high blast which just cleared the wall at the 360-foot mark in right. Lemaster then issued two walks and gave way to Bob Sadowski.

Billy Hoelt, the third Milwaukee pitcher, surrendered the other Chicago run as former Brave Andre Rodgers cracked his seventh homer. Rodgers' fly

Giants Raise NL Lead With Win Over Phils

Duke Snider and Hart Homer in Ninth For 4-3 Decision

BY MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

When they come to write Danny Cater's baseball epitaph, they could say simply: "He was an innocent victim of the Great War."

Cater, a 24-year-old Philadelphia rookie, was listed in the starting line-up as batting fifth Sunday when first-place San Francisco edged the second-place Phillies 4-3 in 10 innings. Although seven Phillies came to the plate in the first inning, Cater never made it.

Managers Al Dark and Gene Mauch took care of that.

They perpetrated one of the weirdest innings of the season, moving players in and out faster than James Bond gets into trouble.

Giants' starter Bob Hendley, a southpaw, triggered the strategy battle by hitting Tony Taylor with a pitch, walking Cookie Rojas and giving a run-scoring single to Johnny Callison, the only hit of the inning.

Out came Dark and in came right-handed reliever Bob Bolin. Richie Allen walked, loading the bases and bringing Cater to the plate.

Mauch Pulled Him

However, before the right-handed hitting Cater could look at a pitch, Mauch pulled him for left-hander Wes Covington. Bolin then went the same way as Cater as Dark brought on southpaw Ken MacKenzie. Mauch, not wanting to run out of outfielders before he got through one inning, let Covington bat.

Dark, however, didn't let MacKenzie pitch too long. After he got Covington on a pop out, he departed in favor of right-hander Gaylord Perry, the fourth Giants' pitcher. By now, observers were beginning to wonder if Dark would have to finish the game with Willie Mays on the mound.

The rest of the inning, though, went relatively fast. Roy Sievers lined a sacrifice fly to Mays, for the second run, and Gus Triandos struck out.

Pity on Staff

After that display of bullpen versatility, Dark apparently took pity on his staff. He brought in just three more pitchers the rest of the way.

Elsewhere in the NL, Cincinnati outslugged St. Louis 11-6.

Foyt Wins 4th Major Racing Test of Year; Jim Hurtubise Injured

A. J.'s Speed in Rex May '100' Over 100 m.p.h.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Jim Hurtubise, veteran driver who suffered critical burns when his big car crashed during a 100-mile race Sunday, was flown to the U.S. Army Brooke Medical Center at San Antonio, Tex., today.

A spokesman for West Allis Memorial Hospital where Hurtubise is being treated said he was in good condition.

A. J. Foyt is shown after winning the Rex Mays 100-mile race in Milwaukee Sunday. (AP Wirephoto)

Hurtubise was rushed after the crash on the 51st lap described Hurtubise's condition when he left at 6:45 a.m. CDT as "still critical, but doing fine."

A U.S. Air Force Aero Medical Evacuation team picked the Tonawanda, N.Y., driver in a plane that was expected to arrive in San Antonio at about 11:45 a.m. CDT.

Hurtubise's car flew into the air and crashed in flames against a concrete retaining wall after the left front wheel of his car climbed over the right rear wheel of A. J. Foyt's racer. The fire under Hurtubise's car was quickly extinguished and he was pulled out.

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Indianapolis 500-mile winner A. J. Foyt won the Rex Mays 100-mile big car auto race Sunday at State Fair Park. Foyt's winning time was 59:47.581.

He averaged 100.365 miles per hour on the one-mile paved track in his conventional Offenhauser-powered car, the same auto he drove at Indianapolis. He finished one-half lap ahead of Len Sutton of Portland, Ore. Sutton drove a rear-mounted Offenhauser.

Jim Hurtubise of North Tonawanda, N. Y., was injured when his car spun out on the 51st lap and struck a concrete retaining wall. His car caught fire, but the blaze was quickly extinguished. Hurtubise suffered burns on his arms, legs and back.

Hurtubise was taken to West Allis Memorial Hospital near the track.

His condition was critical but he was "doing fine," according to a hospital official.

The Hurtubise car and all others in the race burned an alcohol fuel, skipping the gasoline that figured in the Indianapolis crash that killed two drivers.

Finishing behind Foyt and Sutton were Bud Tingelstad of Dayton, Ohio; Troy Ruttman of Dearborn, Mich.; and Mel Kenyon of Davenport, Iowa.

Foyt's purse was $9,830, Sutton $5,803, Tingelstad, $3,552, Ruttman $2,401 and Kenyon $2,051.

Other finishers and their winnings included:

6 Chuck Stevenson, Garden Grove, Calif.; 7. Bob Harkey, Charlotte, N.C.; 8. Norm Hall, Hollywood, Calif.; 9. Jim McElreath, Arlington, Tex.; 10. Bob Hurt, Washington, D.C., $976.

Harkey finished fifth but was set back two places by the judges for passing illegally.

Diving for the Bag, San Francisco Giants first baseman Orlando Cepeda makes the last out in the tenth inning of Sundays game with the Phillies at Philadelphia. Cepeda had made a spectacular stop of batter Johnny Hernsteins grounder, then turned to dive for the bag. Pitcher Bill Pierce is behind the runner. The Giants won, 4-3. (AP Wirephoto)

I've Tried Everything

Ed Mathews Puzzled By His Worst Slump

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee third baseman Eddie Mathews, a member of nine National League All-Star teams in 13 years with the Braves, is puzzled by the worst slump of his career.

"I've had slumps before, including the bad one during the 1958 World Series, but this has got to be the worst," Mathews said Sunday in reviewing his average of .193 and just four homers. "This is a nightmare."

Mathews, who ranks eighth in baseball's all-time home run derby with 426, hasn't connected for a four-base clout since May 10 and the Braves are staggering along with a 500 record.

"Let's face it, I've really been lousy," the 32-year-old slugger said. "I've tried everything I can think of. I've taken extra hitting and I've gone without batting practice. You name it, I've done it. Yes, I've changed bats, too."

Mathews, whose slugging has not been the same since he popped a shoulder muscle in swinging at a pitch two years ago, said the old ailment has disappeared and can't be blamed for his troubles at the plate.

He noted that his slump is "doubly bad" because Henry Aaron and Felipe Alou "haven't been hitting, although Hank is out of his slump."

"It wouldn't be so bad if I could pick them up when they're not hitting and vice versa—they could pick me up," Mathews said.

Aaron, who cracked his sixth homer in a 5-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs Sunday, blamed "junk" that pitchers such as Curt Simmons of St. Louis and Skinny Brown of Houston throw for his early season troubles and a 290 average.

"Those guys throw my timing off," Aaron said. "They throw me that slow stuff and before I know it I'm lunging at the ball. When we got back from our recent long road trip, I was seeing the ball real good."

"I did all right against fast fall pitchers like Houston's Dick Farrell. Then along comes a guy like Brown. He throws me that junk and I'm back lunging again. Right now, though, I'm seeing the ball real good."

Skinner, Goering Team to Win Sports Car Rally

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The team of Don Skinner of East Cleveland, Ohio, and Karl Goering of Saginaw, Mich., drove a Comet to first place Sunday in the two-day rally sponsored by the Milwaukee Region of the Sports Car Club of America.

The sixth annual rally, which drew more than 80 driver-navigator entries, covered more than 550 miles of main highways and secondary roads in southeast Wisconsin.

Skinner and Goering finished with 679 points under a scoring system based on the fewest number of seconds early or late a car arrives at check points along the route.

Ned Jarrett Wins Dixie '400' Race

ATLANTA (AP) — Ned Jarrett, the quiet man with the heavy foot, gives all the credit for his victory in the $56,000 Dixie 400 stock car race to his pit crew. "They did an amazing job," Jarrett said after winning the race in his new 1964 Ford. "I didn't have a long pit stop all afternoon, and I know that made the big difference."

Jarrett, of Camden, S.C., took the lead in the 400-mile event Sunday for the first time on the 193rd lap and led for all but seven of the remaining 74 laps. He averaged a slow 112.5 miles per hour for the race.

Jarrett hit the finish about one half mile, or 12 seconds, ahead of Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., who was driving a 1964 Plymouth. Paul Goldsmith, Mexico City, driving a 1964 Plymouth, was third. The pace in this year's race was the slowest in the history of the 400 as the caution flag was up for a total of 58 laps.

the bases again full of Foxes, Rico lined a double to center to push across two more tallies. Clarence Stanley, who played right field for the first seven frames, pitched the last two and set the Foxes down in order.

The Foxes pulled off two double plays Sunday to run their total for the season to 28. A twin-killing in the fourth left the crowd buzzing for the rest of the game. John Matias fielded a hot grounder, flipped to Huntz at second for the first out, and watched as Huntz nailed the batter at first with a perfect relay to pitcher Zink.

Zink was not among manager Billy De Mars' pitching plans for Sunday, but when Ed Petryshyn turned up with a soreness in his arm, De Mars went with Zink.

Chicago Sweeps 2 From Detroit as Twins Nip Orioles

Double Win Puts White Sox In Lead by One-Half Length

BY HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gene Stephens, who made a living in the '50s as Ted Williams' caddy in the Boston Red Sox outfield, earns his major league paycheck these days with a set of clubs.

Stephens' pinch single in the eighth inning drove in the winning run Sunday as Chicago nipped Detroit 2-1 and completed a doubleheader sweep.

There was a time when all Stephens needed to earn his keep in the big time was a ready glove. That was in the twilight of Williams' fabulous American League career. The Splendid Splinter would start in left field, do his damage at the plate, and then let Stephens handle the fielding for the last few innings.

Drifted for 3 Years

But when Williams retired in 1960, Stephens had to come up with something more than a five-fingered piece of leather to keep his job. It took him three years and a trip to the minors but he appears to have done it.

Stephens drifted to Baltimore and Kansas City and then to Indianapolis in 1963 when, all of a sudden, he discovered his bat.

A .304 average with 17 homers earned him a look with the White Sox at the tailend of last season and he impressed with seven for 18 and a .369 average.

Chicago Manager Al Lopez remembered Stephens' bat in the eighth inning of Sunday's second game against Detroit. The White Sox had taken the opener 8-3 but were trailing 1-0 against Hank Aguirre in the ninth.

Floyd Robinson led off the eighth and reached base on Jake Wood's error. A balk and a sacrifice moved Robinson to third and he scored on Ron Hansen's single. Don Buford's single put the winning run in scoring position and Lopez called for Stephens.

The veteran outfielder singled to left, delivering Hansen with the winning run and completing the sweep for the Chisox.

The double victory coupled with Minnesota's 5-2 victory over Baltimore put the White Sox in first place, a half-game in front of the Orioles. Elsewhere in the AL, New York whacked Los Angeles 9-3, Boston and Kansas City split with the Red Sox, winning the first 9-5 and the A's taking the second 8-6, and Cleveland split a pair with Washington, winning the first 3-2 in 15 innings and losing the nightcap 6-3.

Stephens' hit made a winner of Joel Horlen, who fired a strong three-hitter, allowing just one hit after the first inning and retiring 20 of the last 21 batters he faced.

Dave Nicholson crashed a three-run homer and Pete Ward delivered a clutch single to win the opener. The Tigers had come back to tie it after Nicholson's eighth homer of the season put the Sox on top. A hit batsman and singles by Robinson and Ward pushed the lead run across in the sixth.

Whitey Ford won his seventh straight for the Yankees with home run support from Tommy Tresh and Elston Howard. Ken McBride lost it for the Angels, his 10th setback in 11 decisions. Ford hasn't lost and McBride hasn't won since Opening Day.

The Red Sox and A's had a home run duel with 11 balls soaring into Municipal Stadium's seats. Frank Malzone and Carl Yastrzemski drove in three runs apiece in Boston's first game victory. Both homered and Yastrzemski had another circuit in the second game. Dick Williams homered twice for Boston in the second game and Jim Gentile drove in five runs with two homers for the A's in the nightcap.

The A's scored all their runs in the opener on homers with Ed Charles and Bill Bryan each connecting with a man on and pitcher Orlando Pena adding a bases empty shot. Tony Conigliaro had a two-run homer for the Red Sox.

Stop 6-Game Streak

The Twins halted rookie Wally Bunker's winning streak at six games and dropped the Orioles into second place. Baltimore grabbed a quick 2-0 lead but Harmon Killebrew's 15th homer evened things in the second. Tony Oliva and pitcher Camilo Pascual, who won his eighth, drive in runs in give Minnesota the lead and Bernie Allen's fifth homer closed the scoring.

Boh Chance clubbed two homers for Cleveland but the Indians struggled into the 15th before winning the first game against Washington. Al Smith singled Leon Wagner home to break it up after a walk and a throwing error had put the winning run on third.

Chuck Hinton homered and added two other hits as Washington came back to take the nightcap. Al Koch won it, scattering eight hits including John Romano's seventh homer.

High Court Will Not Review Reversal on Communist Party

Sustains Lower Tribunal's Decision on U. S. Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to review a decision overturning conviction of the Communist party of the United States for failure to register under the Internal Security Act.

The refusal leaves the lower court decision standing.

The Supreme Court's action was announced in a brief order that gave no reason.

Government Appeals

Justice Byron R. White, formerly deputy attorney general, took no part in consideration of the case.

The lower court's decision was by a three-judge panel of the U.S. Court of Appeals here.

The Justice Department had asked the Supreme Court to hear argument in the case and reverse the lower court.

The appeals court held that the government had failed to prove anyone was available to the party who could sign the registration statement without incriminating himself.

Urging reversal of the decision, the government appeal questioned whether party officers may refuse to register for the party "when they cannot possibly incriminate themselves because the statute prohibits

Goldwater Can't Win Their States, 3 Governors Assert

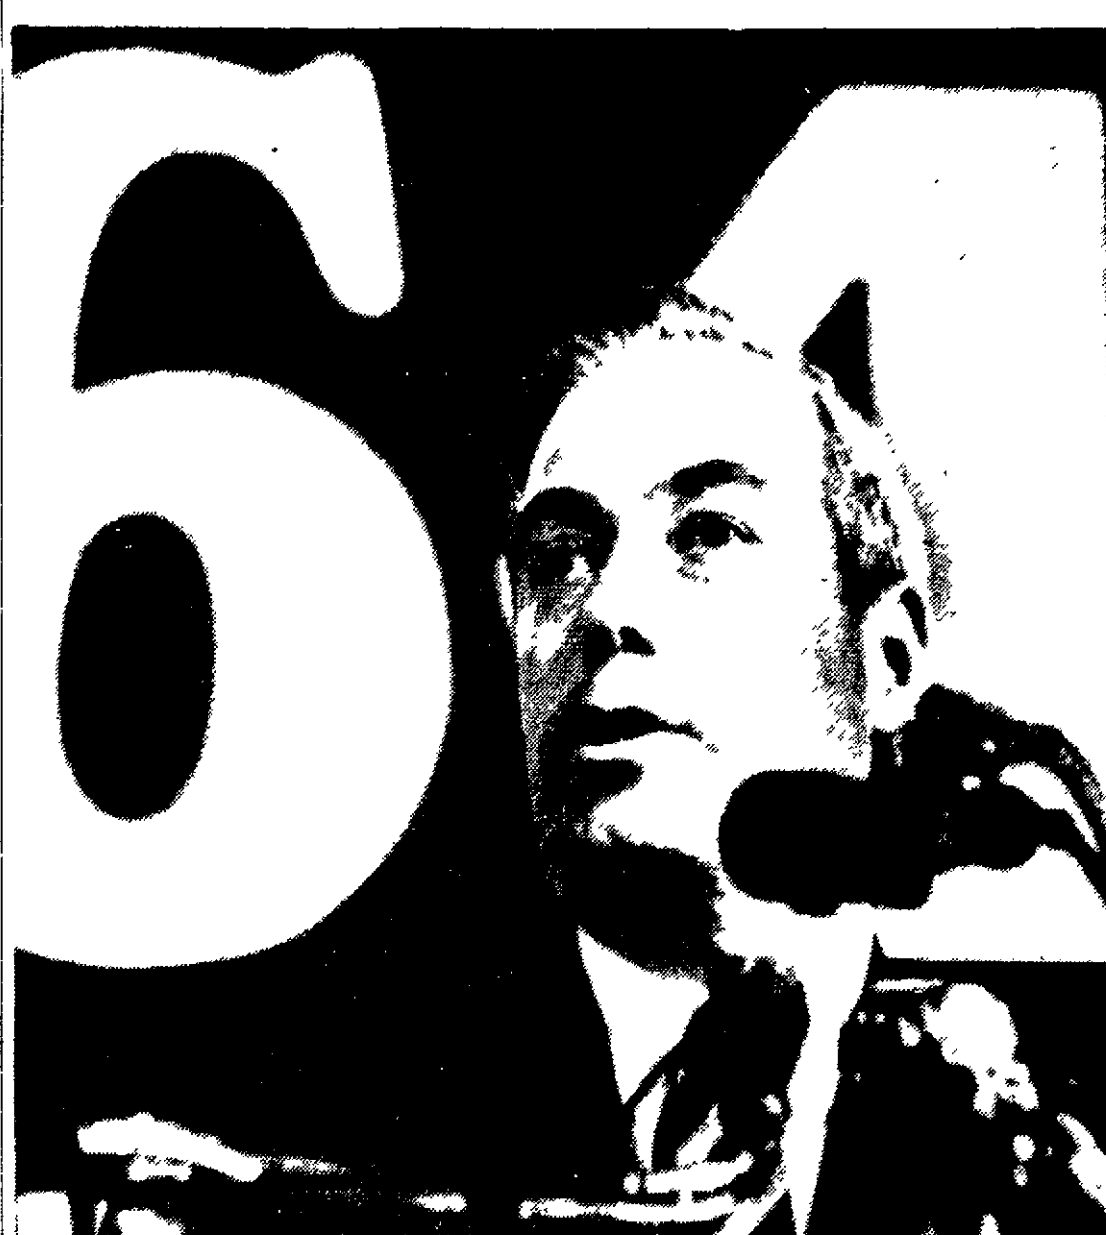

Second U. S. Jet In 2 Days Shot Down by Reds

One Pilot Taken Out of Jungle; Hunt Continues for Other

VIENTIANE, Laos, (AP) — Communist groundfire knocked down the second U.S. Navy jet in two days over Laos Sunday, but the pilot was safely lifted out of the red-held jungle.

U.S. officials hoped to continue an air search today for the pilot of the first plane, but a heavy cloud cover hung over Vientiane. The monsoon season has set in.

Both planes were shot down east of the Plain des Jarres area, recently overrun by the Pathet Lao. Both were Crusader jets capable of 1,000 miles an hour. They were operating from the carrier Kitty Hawk in the South China Sea.

Rockefeller, Scranton and Romney Express Opinions On Position of Arizonan

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., had notice today from three Republican governors that if he becomes the GOP presidential nominee he will have to alter his conservative image or lose their big states in the November election.

Govs. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and George Romney of Michigan spoke out Sunday at news conferences held in connection with today's opening of the 56th annual national Governors' Conference.

Scranton said on a television broadcast and at a news conference that he is available for the presidential nomination. He edged a little further into the race at the urging of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Scranton said Republican candidates are worried about winning in their states if Goldwater is the nominee.

Rockefeller said he is in the race until a better representative of the moderate Republicans comes along, and he made it clear he doesn't think one will.

Ask More Liberal Planks

What had taken on the aspects Sunday of a "Stop-Goldwater" movement rapidly was changing into an effort by Republican moderates to get Goldwater to accept a strong civil rights declaration in the party platform and to repudiate some of his ideas, such as making Social Security voluntary.

After a day in which GOP moderates flailed away at Goldwater, Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon summed it up as "an exercise in sheer futility." He said he thinks Goldwater's nomination is certain.

Goldwater said in Chester, Pa. where he accepted an honorary degree from Pennsylvania Military College, that he would be glad to talk to Scranton and other leaders about the issues.

Goldwater's Comment

"I think I can safely say that I can run on a platform that will contain the civil rights bill that passes the Congress," said Goldwater. "I can assure you it won't be the one that is before us now."

He added that he thinks less than 1 per cent of the Republicans favor the public accommodations section of the bill.

Romney told a news conference Goldwater's views do not "square with the principles for which the Republican party stands on the basis of its past record and heritage."

Romney's Statement

If Goldwater doesn't clarify them to his satisfaction, the Michigan governor said, "I will

Throngs Rush Into River at Nehru Rites

ALLAHABAD, India (AP) — Thousands of grieving Indians plunged into the Ganges River in a frenzied stampede today as the ashes of the late Prime Minister Nehru were strewn on India's holy rivers.

At least one woman drowned before police, wielding clubs from boats, forced swimmers and waders to the shore. Four persons were killed in a stampede Sunday as Nehru's ashes were brought from New Delhi.

The mourning thousands, dressed in the white homespun cotton of India's poor, mobbed a floating platform and it sank under their weight. Scores tried to climb in boats filled with newsmen and government officials, but police beat them back.

Half Million on Banks

About half a million persons crowded to the river banks or waded in. The temperature hit 107 degrees and scores collapsed. Others were injured by police clubs.

Nehru's family, wilted by the heat and almost deafened by the uproar, went out into the river in an amphibious army vehicle to strew the ashes.

"Babuji (father) is gone," sobbed Nehru's daughter, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, as she boarded the vehicle.

Her sons, Rajiv and Sanjay, emptied the urn of Nehru's ashes at a point where the Ganges and the Jumna rivers meet.

Boy and Policeman Slain in Texas Fight

Another Youth Riding in Stolen Pickup Is Wounded

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A riddling the rear with bullets. Shots hit their car, and two other city cruisers that had joined the chase.

Ten miles later, tires punctured, the pickup slammed into a ditch.

Jimmy May was dead of three wounds in the back and neck. Felix Fesmire, 15, identified as the driver, was shot but not seriously wounded in the shoulder.

Keith said officers did not know the boy's ages at the time of the shooting.

He said the pair had left Boys Ranch, a welfare organization which often cares for orphans and delinquents, earlier in the day. Police were investigating the possibility the pair may have robbed a farm family and shot a cowboy.

The Clyde Kohler family reported two boys held them up Sunday night and stole their pickup.

Kohler said the pair cut their telephone wire, took some ammunition and left after saying they had shot a man earlier.

Headquarters of the LIT Ranch reported one of their cowboys did not return from a hunting trip.

38 Senators File Cloture Petition

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thirty-eight senators filed a petition today to close off the Senate's record filibuster against the House-passed civil rights bill.

The petition to invoke the Senate's debate-limiting cloture rule was sent to the desk by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and will automatically come to a vote one hour after the Senate meets on Wednesday.

Boy Rescued After He Saves Fishing Bobber

SPARTA (AP) — Steven Peters, 8, saved his fishing line bobber after it had floated away on Perch Lake Sunday. Odes Clark saved Steven.

When the bobber came loose, Steven found a board, climbed on and began to paddle after it. The board sank and he began to shout.

The 39-year-old Clark, of Sparta, answered the call and when he reached the scene all he saw was the boy's head beneath the surface. Clark jumped in and pulled out Steven, who was clutching the bobber in his hand.

The boy had swallowed a lot of water but didn't need medical aid.

No Jury Trial For Ex-Governor Of Mississippi

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to reconsider its denial of a jury trial to former Mississippi Gov. Ross R. Barnett and his successor, Paul B. Johnson, on criminal contempt charges filed against them in the James H. Meredith case.

Barnett and Johnson were charged with contempt on the ground they refused to obey orders of the U.S. Circuit Court in New Orleans not to interfere with admission of Meredith, a Negro, to the University of Mississippi in 1962.

Meredith entered the university amid rioting that caused President Kennedy to send in federal troops. Meredith since was graduated.

The Supreme Court split 5-4 in ruling April 6 against claims by Barnett and Johnson that they were entitled to a jury trial. The decision left Barnett and Johnson subject to trial by the judges of the New Orleans Circuit Court.

Johnson Ridicules Talk of Federal Threat to Freedom

Urges Graduates Not to Hold 'Phantom Fears' About Future

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP) — President Johnson scoffed today at those who call the federal government "a major menace to individual liberty."

At the same time he appealed to college graduates of 1964 not to "feel alien to this world they are preparing to enter."

By some definitions, Johnson's message appeared to be aimed on the one hand, at those who share the political philosophy of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and, on the other, at the college-educated segment of "the beat generation."

In his address, prepared for commencement exercises at Swarthmore College, Johnson said: "Let us not call forth phantom fears about what the future holds."

Continuing, he said, "One of those fears is that the federal government has become a major menace to individual liberty."

"This," he asserted, "is not so."

The chief executive went on to ask a series of rhetorical questions, all of them obviously intended to be answered in the negative.

"Does government subvert our freedom through the social security system?"

"Does government undermine our freedom by bringing electricity to the farm—by controlling floods—or by ending bank failures?"

Other Questions

"Is freedom lessened by efforts to abate pollution in our streams—or by efforts to strengthen competition in the free market?"

"Is freedom diminished by banning the sale of harmful drugs—by providing school lunches for our children—by preserving our wilderness areas—or by improving the safety of our airways?"

Johnson saved for last civil rights, a subject he has mentioned often.

Strikers Turn Down Contract At Essex Wire

HILLSDALE, Mich. (AP) — State labor mediators scheduled a meeting with company and union representatives today in an effort to finalize a settlement of the 101-day-old Essex Wire Corp. strike.

The mediation meeting was scheduled for 2 p.m. in Detroit.

Meanwhile National Guard troops maintained a vigil in this southern Michigan community following a union refusal to accept full terms of a proposed settlement pact.

No pickets nor nonunion workers were at the plant today.

The strikers, members of the International Union of Electrical Workers, sent the package back to their bargaining committee Sunday night in an action described by union representatives as unanimous.

"The members were just as unanimous as the day (March 28) they walked out of the plant," said George Gould, IUE barbed wire barricades without being noticed by border guards.

Aberdeen Authorities Issue Booklet on How To Stamp Out Typhoid

ABERDEEN Scotland (AP) — Municipal authorities today began distributing 30,000 copies of a 12-page booklet on how to stamp out typhoid, as the city's outbreak of the disease reached a new peak.

The number of cases reported in the city rose Sunday to 402, of which 342 have been confirmed as typhoid. The number of confirmed cases is now higher than in the worst previous modern outbreak in Britain in the 1937 outbreak in London's Croydon suburb there were 349 confirmed cases, of whom 43 died. One death has been reported in the current outbreak.

Aberdeen's medical officer of health, Dr. I. A. G. MacAqueen said Sunday the pattern of the outbreak in the city now suggests that it is coming under control.

It is to help perfect the city's food hygiene that the booklet is being distributed. Dr. MacAqueen said latest reports indicated almost all the city's residents were cooperating toward mastering their food and personal hygiene procedures.

New Turmoil Breaks Out

Vietnamese Catholics Rap Lodge During Demonstration in Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam leading officials were Roman Catholics and the church had a favored position under his regime.

The demonstration brought out an estimated 40,000 persons on the morning after the sentencing of a Catholic army officer whose troops fired on Buddhist demonstrators in Hue last year. Eight persons died in the clash, which set off the Buddhist campaign against Diem.

Buddhism Assailed

Other banners called Buddhism an ally of communism. A Some Catholics think he is being offered as a scapegoat to South States for its aid in the fight against Communist guerrillas.

The anti-Lodge demonstrators accused the ambassador of supporting the Buddhists in their campaign against President Ngo Dinh Diem's regime, which was overthrown last November.

Some had come 25 miles on foot from a Catholic resettlement area for refugees from Communist North Viet Nam. The resettlement area is a stronghold of anti-government sentiment.

A small group broke away and tried to pull down a memorial plaque to President John F. Kennedy. The square, in front of Saigon's Catholic cathedral, was renamed John F. Kennedy Square on May 30.

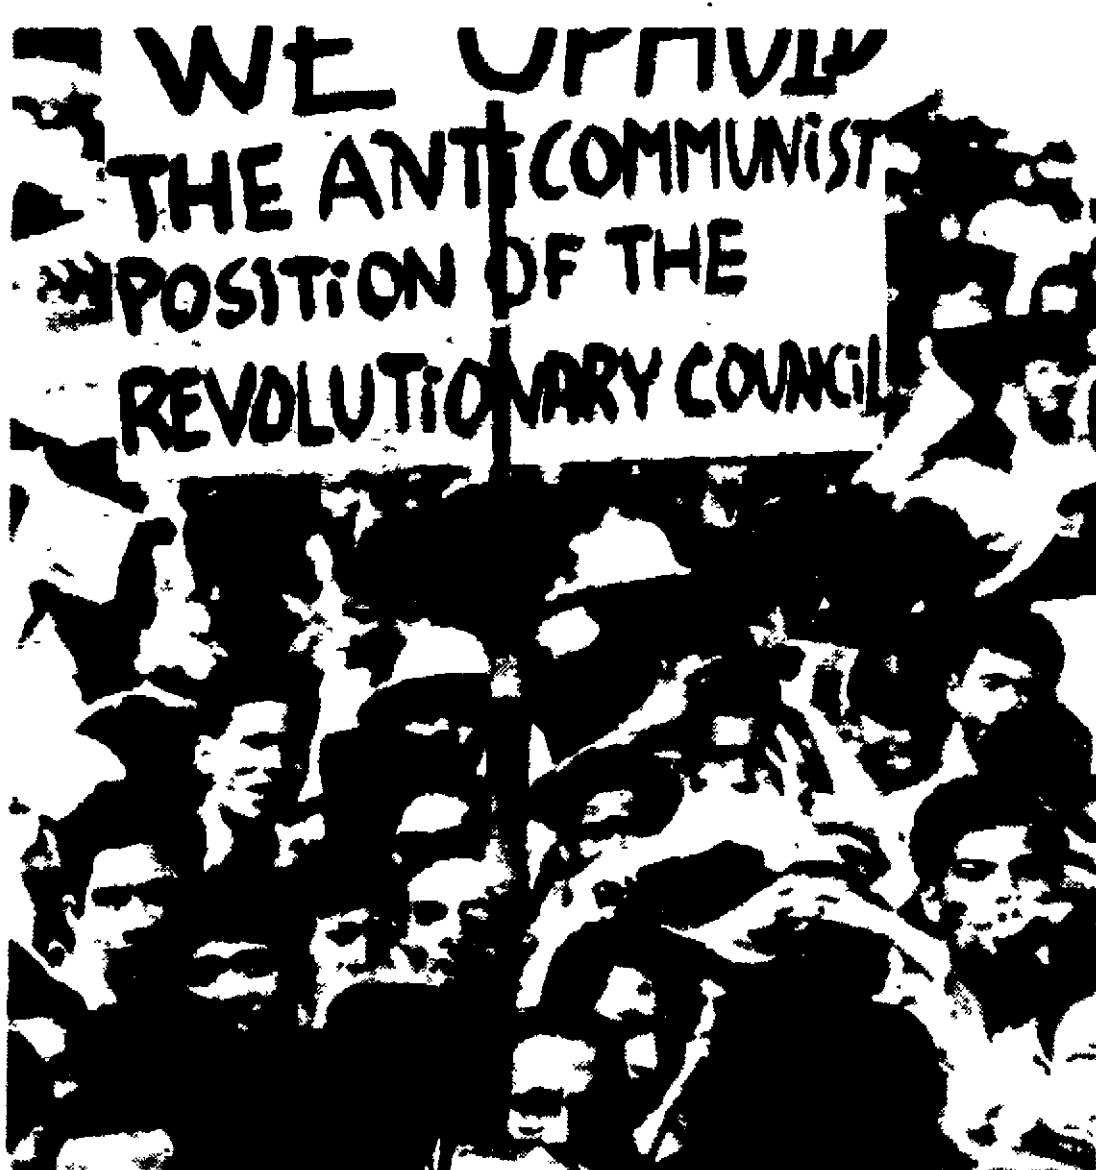

"This is holy ground in front of the cathedral," said a demonstrator. "We object to having it renamed after a politician."

Bitter Attack on Lodge

Some Vietnamese Catholics blame the Kennedy administration for Diem's overthrow.

A pamphlet distributed at the rally charged that Lodge "exploited the so-called repression of Buddhists last year to overthrow the old regime. Now he is fomenting religious discrimination to create a new regime subservient to his own personal aims."

Some banners said: "Go home Cabot Lodge."

An Anti-Communist Sign is carried by some of the 40,000 Catholic laymen who staged a protest in downtown Saigon Sunday. Some of the signs denounced U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and others Buddhism. The demonstration followed sentencing of Major Dang Sy, a Roman Catholic army officer, whose troops fired on Buddhist demonstrators in Hue last year. First Lady Won't Plant Texas Oak WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson has given up her hopes of planting a Texas live oak tree on the White House grounds.

These trees abound on the President's LBJ ranch near Johnson City, Tex.

After consulting with horticulture experts Mrs. Johnson said, she is convinced it wouldn't work because the live oak is used to a hotter climate.

"One lived to be 35 years old around here," Mrs. Johnson said, but that didn't satisfy her. "I would like to plant something that would be a tree for the ages."

The First Lady said she loves brought it to the White House to point out to visitors the trees that were planted at the white house by former occupants. Among her favorites is the magnolia grandiflora planted near the south portico by President Andrew Jackson, who brought it to the White House from his family home "The Hermitage."

New London To Meet on Rail Crossing

NEW LONDON — A meeting with railroad representatives for a grade crossing on High Street is expected within the next two weeks, Raymond Pelishek, director of public works has announced.

The city is anticipating removal of the High Street bridge but must obtain permission from the railroad company for a grade crossing on High Street.

Other summer projects anticipated in the street department include installation of curb and gutter on several city streets, widening and improvement of the intersection of Jeanne St. and U. S. 45, repairing the sewer on S. Shawano Street and extending E. Hancock Street 187 feet.

He said sewers on North Water Street would be televised to find possible breaks and leaks.

New London To Seek Help Raising River

NEW LONDON — A request for the city council to write a letter to the Army Corps of Engineers in regard to closing the gates at Menasha was approved by the city council at Tuesday night's meeting.

The request was made by Robert Polaski who said the Wolf River had dropped three feet in 10 days and he felt closing the gates would help keep up the level for better boating.

Ruben Voss, record keeper for the Wolf River here, said Thursday that the river is continuing to drop about two inches per day and the reading Thursday showed the water level of the river was two feet above sea level.

Voss also said he had talked with a representative from the Corps of Engineers, who said the gates at Menasha had been closed since April.

Hartman's Creek State Park, west of Waupaca was the site of this year's Scout Camporee, and it gave the scouts an ideal opportunity to practice their woodsmanship. The camporee site provided both open area for competitive events and wooded areas for camping.

Each campsite was marked on a map located near the headquarters tent. Three scouts are shown checking the location of their camp on the map. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Competitive Events at the Camporee were held in a large open area which was ideal for the patrol-type of activities which were emphasized. Troop 4 from Brillion is shown moving from one events area to another. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Wolf Plan Unit to Examine Fish Kill

Conservation Department Should Have Acted Further, Bubolz Says

The Wolf River Regional Planning Commission has called for a "thorough-going investigation" of the causes of the Lake Winnebago fish kill.

In a letter addressed last week to L. P. Voigt, director of the Wisconsin Conservation Department, commission chairman Gordon A. Bubolz criticized the "mere issuance of a statement" released by the department's Oshkosh office after a study of the situation.

The statement, released May 25, stated that algae were the cause of the dead fish and that their removal was the responsibility of local property owners.

"It was my opinion," Bubolz wrote, "that the Conservation Department had an obligation to cooperate more fully with regard to this problem than the mere issuance of a statement as to the cause of the fish kill and that it could do nothing further about it."

"More Helpful Position"

He continued, "I felt that a more helpful position was called for under the circumstances including a team effort with the State Board of Health whose direction and control was definitely called for by the situation."

Under present state statutes, health officers of various cities, villages and towns affected by the fish kill are responsible for cleaning up the dead fish. State agencies cannot directly participate in the cleanup because of limitations imposed by the internal improvements of the Wisconsin constitution.

Bubolz said that he did "not believe that from a public health standpoint a reference to the limitation to the internal improvements provision to the constitution can be set up as a defense of a policy of no action."

The commission chairman also criticized the fact that a sample of the dead fish sent to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service laboratory in LaCrosse would be analyzed for bacterial and parasitic diseases—not anything that would consider chemical and insecticidal residues.

"Conservation Calamity"

"The unprecedented proportions and magnitude of the fish kill approaches a conservation calamity," he wrote. "This is a serious setback to the fishery resources of the area."

Because of the "widespread and strong public sentiment in regard to the matter," Bubolz wrote, "a thorough-going investigation of all possible phases and contributing factors of the fish kill should be gone into."

He called for a "very special and coordinated effort in which the State Board of Health, the U.S. Department of Health, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the Wisconsin Conservation Department and the Corps of Engineers should be included."

"Warrants Investigation"

While the commission did "not wish to minimize the fact that an early production of algae may have been a factor in the fish kill," Bubolz wrote, "the seriousness of the situation certainly warrants an investigation of the chemical causation factors."

If the constitution did limit state participation in any investigation, Bubolz wrote, "The Wolf River Regional Planning Commission has a duty and responsibility to make recommendations to the member counties and their legislative representatives in respect to problems of this nature."

Member counties of the commission include Outagamie, Winnebago, Waupaca, Shawano, Menominee, Forest and Langlade counties.

Begin Razing of Burned Out Store

Post-Crescent News Service DE PERE—Razing of Jacobs Bros. Supermarket on W. Main Avenue, destroyed in a $250,000 blaze last week, got underway Friday to make way for a new food store, according to Henry Jacobs, president of the firm.

The cleanup job is being done by Ziese Construction Co. of Green Bay. Steel trusses and metal roofing in the 80 by 160 foot one-story shell are being removed and will be disposed of as scrap. Brick and concrete block rubble and remaining charred contents of the supermarket will be scooped up, trucked off and buried, Jacobs said.

An inspector from the State Board of Health is at the site to see that all remaining foodstuffs are completely buried. The inspector has ruled that none of the stock is fit for human consumption.

De Pere Police Captain Harold Smits said today there had been some pilfering of canned coffee and other items from the store. He warned that anyone who has taken food subjected to the blaze should heed the Health department decree.

The store will reopen soon in temporary quarters in the Broadway West garage building on Main Avenue, Jacobs said.

Shaggy Dog Story Clears Up 'Breakin' at Black Creek

An unknown shaggy dog pursued by a clanging tin can tied to his tail may be the culprit sought in an early morning break-in at the Black Creek Bowling alley-barber shop, Outagamie County sheriff authorities have concluded.

First reports indicated a burglar may have smashed the large plate glass in the door to gain entry to the barber shop. Blood was spattered on the floor near the broken glass and on the barber shop floor.

Authorities followed the blood trail through several yards and toward an open swamp near the village. Investigation at the shop also uncovered clumps of animal hair. A conservation warden was called and identified tracks found near the swamp as belonging to a large dog. Authorities discounted burglars when they noted the money drawers were untouched and that blood was only on the lower wall and floor.

Sheriff Lt. Jack Zuelzke said he questioned one village resident who admitted he tied a tin can on the tail of a stray dog late Friday and the dog ran toward the village trying to elude the can. Zuelzke said the dog may have run into the plate glass window. No trace of an injured dog has been found and it is believed the dog ran into the swamp and became lost. Zuelzke said it was feared a bear had entered the barber shop until the tracks were identified by the game warden.

GOP Leaders Disturbed By Goldwater Progress

No Concern Was Shown While Rockefeller And Arizona Senator Battled for Votes

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—If Sen. Barry Goldwater wins the Republican presidential nomination, to a large extent it's because he showed vitality. Almost without exception other Republican leaders sat back, keeping hands off. Now they're stirred up.

The exception was New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. He and Goldwater wanted the nomination and fought for it. None of the others appeared to lift a finger except Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, who never had a chance.

No wonder Rockefeller looked sardonically Sunday at some of those others — like Michigan Gov. George Romney and Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton—who now suddenly seem disturbed that Goldwater may win.

No Concern
They showed no concern before when Rockefeller and Goldwater were battling and might ruin each other. Now they do when Goldwater may clinch the Last week he said he'd be willing, if drafted by the convention, to run for the vice presidency with Goldwater.

He even said he knew of no "basic differences between him" and the Arizona senator. But Sunday, with Goldwater getting closer to a first-ballot nomination, Scranton suddenly said he would be available for the nomination.

Ready to Serve
"I'm ready to serve," he said. This time he didn't say he'd have to be drafted. But now, also suddenly, he and Romney say they want clarification of Goldwater's views although he's expressed them for months and written three books.

"I have a feeling," Scranton said, "that the country as a whole is beginning to think he does not" measure up to the principles of the Republican party. This was an ironic statement, coming from Scranton.

The country as a whole would be puzzled to know where Scranton measures up to those principles since his views on anything are widely unknown. It was right here that Rockefeller got in a dig at Scranton and Romney.

He said he'd like to know where Scranton stands and, as for Romney, the New York governor said the Michigan governor had spoken out too late. Romney says he, too, would accept a draft although he intends to run for a second term as governor.

Public Views
Romney said Sunday that Goldwater has "voiced public views that do not square with the principles for which the Republican party stands." He said he would spare no effort to keep Goldwater from the nomination if his views do not measure up to the needs of the nation and the party.

There's one appropriate question at this point: where were Romney and Scranton all these months while Goldwater was campaigning if they don't know his views?

Nixon seemed to think he was finished after he lost the presidential race in 1960 and the contest for the governorship of California in 1962. He said after this second defeat it was "my last campaign for public office."

In 1963 he said would not under any circumstances accept a Republican presidential draft. But by 1964 he was saying, "I will play whatever role the party decides."

MENASHA — Public Works Director Robert Poss said work crews will arrive here today to begin television of sewers on six streets.

The crews are scheduled to be- gin televising of sewers on Eighth Street at Warsaw Street in the first phase of the work this year. Purpose of the televis- ing is to check for breaks in sewer pipes and other bad con- ditions.

Other streets to be checked are Ninth, Ida, Water, Racine and on Borenz Court.

All but one of the streets, Ra- cine, are scheduled to be paved. The televising will be done by the American Pipe Cleaning Co. of Minneapolis. The company at present is working in Appleton.

Funds for televising the sew- ers were appropriated in early 1963.

Poss said the project is plan- ned eventually to take in all city streets. The six streets men- tioned are all planned this year.

Nelson Urges U. S. Projects For Indians

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wisc- onsin's Sen. Gaylord Nelson urged the Department of Health, Edu- cation and Welfare Friday to support appropriations for water and sewer facilities needed to begin construction of 3,200 pub- lic housing units on Indian res- ervations throughout the nation, including several in Wisconsin.

He noted that the housing units have already been author- ized by the Public Housing Ad- ministration but said the De- partment of Health, Education and Welfare had made no bud- get provision for $2.4 million nec- essary for water and sewage systems. Regulations require such systems if construction is to go forward.

Stress Housing

Nelson termed Indian housing needs one of the worst aspects of the nation's poverty prob- lem. And he said reports by the division of Indian health show a history of systematic neglect of basic water and waste disposal needs on Indian reservations.

He urged that Congress be asked for supplemental author- ity to provide the facilities.

The Wisconsin Democrat said that if the health department failed to act, three Indian hous- ing projects in his state prob- ably would not be built. These include a 60-unit project at Lac du Flambeau, a 25-unit project at Bad River, and a 64-unit project for the Oneida tribe.

Twin City Labor Unit To Hold Fund Raising In Candidate Support

MENASHA — A political fund raising dinner sponsored by the Oshkosh Labor Council and the Neenah-Menasha Labor Council will be held June 22 at the Neenah Eagles Club. Purpose of the event is to raise money in sup- port of candidates in the 1964 elections.

An announcement from the Neenah - Menasha Labor Coun- cil said all locals are urged to buy as many of the $3 tickets as possible. Harold K. Dahl is in charge.

Leora Dunning of the Wisc- onsin State AFL-CIO talked on vot- ing records in the Twin Cities at the May meeting and display- ing voting maps of the Twin Cit- ies.

Frank X. Hochholzer, member of the Neenah Board of Educa- tion, urged labor to take more interest in school board meet- ings. He asked, "What is labor's participation toward education?"

He was told the Neenah-Mena- sha Labor Council follows the AFL-CIO research and educa- tional program and also the Neenah educational program.

The Labor Council expressed official disappointment at not be- ing recognized or mentioned at the dedication of Theda Clark Memorial Hospital. Chairman Dahl reported on past Commu- nity Chest meetings.

Registration for the session is still going on today. Classes will be held in three areas: mathematics, personal typing and English. Instructors are John Long, James Pelegrin and Dalton Schoening, respec- tively.

L. A. Wienbergen will head the six weeks summer session.

School Dropouts Are Great Loss to Nation

BY SYLVIA PORTER

At this peak of the high school dropout season, let me submit some hitherto undisclosed statistics about who is dropping out of this year which I suspect will stun you as they have just stunned me.

A full 62,500 who will drop out of high school in 1964 alone have the scholastic ability to complete a college program and to make a significant contribution to our economy and society. These represent a tremendous loss to our nation.

Another 375,000 who will leave this year without getting a diploma have the potential to complete difficult post-high school vocational programs and to fill our urgent need for trained technicians. These represent an enormous loss too.

An additional 150,000 who will drop out have enough intelligence to complete special high school courses designed for them and to acquire the skills with which to earn a decent living. They'll not find the courses, though, and they'll be heading for the jobless rolls.

Special Programs Only 142,500 of all who will drop out are at the bottom of the IQ pile, need special education programs. But they won't find the programs either and they'll join our swelling number of unemployed juvenile delinquents and welfare cases.

Despite the many-pronged attack we are launching on the dropout problem, the estimate still is that in this decade of the 1960s 7,500,000 will leave high school before graduation. The above breakdown, made by O. Roy Warner of the U. S. Office of Education, signals what is to happen in 1964 alone and indicates what sort of teenager is quitting.

Consider the startling implications of these statistics on the brainpower and potential of the dropout. The widespread impression that the dropout is a dullard with a below normal IQ is not true. On the contrary, 61 per cent—or 4,575,000 of this decade's dropouts—have the ability to complete tough vocational-technical programs and college!

Resources Wasted The waste of human resources and talent—in an era when the economy is demanding increasing education and when a shortage of skilled manpower could undermine our future growth—is devastating.

Warner evaluated 21,497 dropouts tested in nine studies carried on at the federal state and city levels. The students were ranked on the standardized scale: an IQ below 80 indicates the need for special education; an IQ between 80 and 89 indicates the need for special high school courses; an IQ between 90 and 109 indicates the student can complete vocational-technical programs; an IQ of 110 and above indicates the student can complete vocational-technical programs; an IQ of 110 and above indicates the student can complete college. Here's how the 21,497 came out.

Only 19 per cent had IQs of less than 80 and only 20 per cent had IQs between 80 and 89. A full 50 per cent had IQs between 90 and 109 and about 11 per cent had IQs of 110 and above.

These statistics dramatize how woefully inadequate is today's attack on the dropout problem, how much more we must do.

We must drastically revise our school curricula to make the education more versatile and compelling. We must provide far more post-school training programs for the millions of students capable of becoming skilled technicians. We must develop special courses for the low IQ groups to make them capable of holding jobs. We must upgrade the calibre and dignity of vocational education across-the-board as rapidly as possible. We must vastly improve our guidance services. We must make a searching examination of our own attitudes toward types of education, insist not just on a reappraisal of our education system but also on follow-up corrective action.

Potential Dropouts As Warner says, though, no to what's developing, this "summer" matter "how versatile the school curriculum, how effective the guidance services, or as never before.

If the teenage violence erupting across the country is a clue to what's developing, this "summer" matter "how versatile the school curriculum, how effective the guidance services, or as never before.

We developed, it will not be possible to keep every potential dropout in school. The home, the church, and other societal institutions must assist the school if the problem is to be solved.

On every front, the gap between what we're doing and what we should be doing is awful.

If the teenage violence erupting across the country is a clue to what's developing, this "summer" matter "how versatile the school curriculum, how effective the guidance services, or as never before.

Justice Orders Vandals to Work In Town Dump

Eight youths—six boys and two girls—appeared before Town of Grand Chute Justice of the Peace William Schleisner Saturday for sentencing on vandalism charges.

The eight were apprehended two weeks ago by Constable John Arlt as they tried to unload a road culvert post onto the lawn of the Rev. Harold E. Warnke, principal of Fox Valley Lutheran High School.

The youths, ranging in age from 15 to 18 years, admitted committing several acts of vandalism during the year.

Justice Schleisner sentenced three members of the group to work three days in the town dump. He also ordered the youths, who have admitted pulling up road posts, knocking over mail boxes and removing school warnings signs, to repair the damage they have done.

The justice ordered the other three boys to report to the town hall, where they must clean up the building and equipment.

He turned over the two girls involved to the Rev. Mr. Warnke, for disciplinary action.

Outagamie county sheriff authorities plan to question the youths about other unsolved acts of vandalism.

To Your Good Health

Most Medical Research Serves Useful Purpose

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Skimming through the little magazine, "Medicine at Work," I happened upon the quotation of a remark by Prof. Paul B. Sears, of Yale, as follows:

"We have had a rash of ridicule at research projects which seem unrelated to practical life."

Dr. Molner Around 1915 the humorists had a field day over a thesis at Johns Hopkins entitled, "A Proper Diet for White Mice."

The jokesmiths used to have a lot of fun with Albert Einstein's abstruse theories, albeit with a certain measure of respect underlying them, but I haven't heard any since atomic power came out of his theories.

A scientist for whom I worked as a young man used to tell about the ridicule heaped on public health inspectors who went around getting samples of water from community pumps. Sometimes they had to sneak up to the pumps at night because of public outcry against them. But that was the key to stopping typhoid.

Dropped Phrase

Only the other day an outstanding surgeon explained how some of the modern heart operations are performed and how they were developed. He dropped the phrase, "Another result of experiments with dogs. That's where all of this came from."

Doubtless, if anyone with a taste for ridiculing such things, had noticed it at the time, there might have been some smart-aleck jokes about the money spent in learning how to grow chicken pox germs. "What do we want them for?" somebody might have asked.

Well, learning how to grow chicken pox virus showed how to grow polio virus, too, and that was a vital step in making it possible to make polio vaccine. The "chicken pox growers" won a Nobel Prize for their work.

Potential Value

I suppose there are some worthless research projects—but not if it can be helped by people who award money for these projects. They try, naturally, to be sure that every project is potentially valuable.

It is true that a lot of projects "fail" in the sense of not achieving a "cure" or a full explanation of some fact or other.

But even this work is of value. It shows how not to do something, as well as adding to the total knowledge about a subject.

Dear Dr. Molner: There is a solution containing aluminum chloride to prevent perspiration. What are the ingredients?—W.S. It is a 10 to 25 per cent solution of aluminum chloride in water. Pat the liquid onto the skin and let it dry. The stronger solution may be irritating. The weaker one will be less so and still be effective.

Dear Dr. Molner: My young son has rheumatic fever. I found out about it several months ago. His tonsils and adenoids have been removed since then. He is now on penicillin. Do you agree with this treatment?—L. L.

Yes, absolutely. This is the recognized treatment, and its good effect has been thoroughly proved. The penicillin may be given once a day, in tablet form, or injected once a month, using a larger dose in a form which will be absorbed gradually.

The purpose is to prevent new attacks of rheumatic fever and the great risk of serious heart damage if such attacks do recur.

Note to Mrs. R.D.S.: While I don't recommend eating sugar as a habit (too many calories, and bad for the teeth) there's nothing unusual about it. No different from eating candy!

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Molner in care of Appleton Post-Crescent for your copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling. (Copyright, 1964)

Ex-Governor Is Czar of Tobacco Advertising

Authority Given To Impose Fines Up to $100,000

Meyner again cigarette smoker," says his job of administering a new cigarette advertising code should be that of a judge, not an image-maker for the tobacco industry

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP)—Former Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, an "off and on again cigarette smoker," says his job of administering a new cigarette advertising code should be that of a judge, not an image-maker for the tobacco industry

The code, developed after the U.S. Surgeon General's report linking cigarette smoking with lung cancer, establishes uniform standards for cigarette advertising.

Meyner said he would have authority to review all advertising and impose fines of up to $100,000 for violations.

Advertising Code

The code prohibits advertising that represents cigarette smoking as essential to "social prominence, distinction, success or sexual attraction."

It also bars advertising in publications or radio and television programs directed primarily at persons under 21.

In announcing Meyner's appointment Sunday, the companies said he would have "complete and final authority to determine whether cigarette advertising complies with the standards of this code and to enforce the code in all its respects."

Meyner said he would not take over his new job until the Justice Department completes a review of the code to determine whether it violates federal anti-trust laws. He declined to discuss his salary.

Vatican Official On Secret Mission

BOSTON (AP)—Augustin Cardinal Bea, president of the Vatican's Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity, arrives in Boston today on a "secret mission."

The 83-year-old cardinal told newsmen when he left Rome Sunday only that he was "going on a secret mission. When I return in eight days, perhaps I can say more."

Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, who will be his host here, declined to elaborate on Cardinal Bea's visit.

576 Suspended By Korean Chief

BY C. S. CHIN
SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—President Chung Hee Park suspended 576 government officials—including a Cabinet vice minister—for corruption today in an effort to quiet student demonstrators. The action was announced by Premier Chung Il-kwon but he did not identify the officials or give other details.

Corruption within Park's government was one cause of the violent student demonstrations against Park in Seoul and other South Korea cities last week. The president also ordered a probe of scandals charged to his government by the demonstrators. They included a government-financed apartment construction project and price rigging of flour, cement and sugar.

Ruby Denies Connection With Oswald

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A clean-shaven but "wild-eyed" Jack Ruby told Chief Justice Earl Warren Sunday he had no connection with Lee Harvey Oswald, whom he shot two days after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

This was reported by a reliable source after Warren spent more than three hours with Ruby in the Dallas County jail. It was believed the first time a chief justice of the United States ever took testimony from a prisoner in jail.

Warren and other members of the Warren Commission toured the Texas School Book Depository Building, from where the assassin is alleged to have fired rifle bullets at Kennedy, as well as Oswald's rooming house and Ruby's apartment.

They also visited the Texas Theater, where Oswald was captured, and the intersection near by where police officer J. D. Tippitt was slain.

Oswald was charged with the murders of both Kennedy and Tippitt. Ruby is under the death sentence for slaying Oswald.

Details of the jail conference were not made public. However, it is known that Warren, J. Lee Rankin, commission counsel, and Rep. Gerald Ford, R-Mich., a commission member, asked Ruby if he knew Oswald and whether there was a conspiracy involved when he shot him.

Ruby reportedly replied in the negative. He also was asked about his trip to Cuba in the late 1950s, but his answers are not known.

Cyprus Topic of Talks in London

LONDON (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State George Ball conferred today with Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler on the critical situation in Cyprus and Southeast Asia.

Ball arrived Sunday from Paris. The two men had on their agenda the crisis in Cyprus, where President Makarios' government has announced plans for conscription. Turkey, gravely worried, has been talking of one-sided action to stop this move.

Ball and Butler also considered the difficult situation in Laos and Viet Nam and the dispute between Indonesia and Malaysia.

When the subject of Cyprus was being examined, Ball and Butler were joined by Commonwealth Relations Secretary Duncan Sandys.

Fall Down Stairs Fatal to Man, 70

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Lawrence Franzen, 70, died Sunday of head injuries received in fall down the front stairs of his home. Authorities said he toppled backwards down four stairs and struck his head on a cement sidealk.

Lee Rankin, chief counsel for the Warren Commission, are shown Sunday in Dallas where the commission is investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Goldwater Vote May 3 Governors Near 600 This Week

There are other matters to be settled at state conventions this week.

Indiana — Republicans will nominate a Senate candidate from a field of three and a gubernatorial candidate from a field of seven. Two congressmen are in the running—Rep. Donald C. Bruce for the Senate and Rep. William G. Bray for governor.

Utah—Republicans will either endorse or nominate candidates for Senate, House and governor Under a new state law, the top two men at the convention go on the August primary ballot unless one of them gets an endorsement by 80 per cent of the state convention delegates.

There are only two candidates for the Senate—Rep. Sherman P. Lloyd and Ernest L. Wilkinson, former president of Brigham Young University. Neither is expected to get 80 per cent. Five men seek the nod for governor, including former Gov. J. Bracken Lee, State Publicity Director D. James Cannon and former GOP National Committeeman Melich.

Connecticut — Republicans are expected to nominate former Gov. John Davis Lodge without opposition for the Senate seat held by Thomas J. Dodd. Dodd already has won Democratic nomination for a second term.

Idaho—Republicans and Democrats will nominate or endorse to a primary candidates for two House seats.

South Carolina — Democrats vote in a primary election Tuesday on six House candidates. Only two of the incumbents—Robert T. Ashmore and W.J.B. Dorn—have primary opposition. But there's a four-way race for the nomination to the seat vacated by Robert W. Hemphill, who quit to become a federal judge.

Negro Youth Going Back to Mississippi To Avoid Terrorism

NEW YORK (AP)—After three weeks in New York City, an 18-year-old Negro from Mississippi says he's going back to Vicksburg.

"I'd rather wait on tables at $27 a wk there than get my head kicked in here," said Larry Thomas.

Thomas was hailed as a hero New York newspapers a week ago because he frightened off a gang of Negro boys who had attacked a white boy on a subway train. The Negroes ran when Thomas shouted, "The dirt for $1 at the mine and found cops are coming!"

Thomas then helped the injured white youth, Howard ready-to-wear dealer, called it Weiner. 15.

Thomas said Sunday he'd never seen anything like the sub-for tourists to try their luck. Jim Brinkman, who runs a gem shop in this area, estimated the value of Mrs. Stock's head with a black-jack, but ruby at $50 a carat.

Second U. S. Jet In 2 Days Shot Down by Reds rescued by a U.S. helicopter and flown back to the Kitty Hawk, an embassy spokesman said.

U.S. officials gave no details of the jungle rescue, but it was unofficially reported that several helicopters had been badly shot up in an attempt to find the other pilot, Lt. Charles F. Klusmann, 30, of San Diego, Calif.

Peking's Charge

Klusmann was on a reconnaissance flight when his plane was hit. He was reported to have parachuted safely, but his exact landing spot in the rugged, isolated terrain apparently was not known.

Red China charged that U.S. jet fighters fired two rockets at Khang Khay, Pathet Lao headquarters on the Plaine des Jarres. There was no mention of damage or casualties.

Reliable sources in Vientiane said Laotian air force T28 fighter-bombers armed with machine guns are providing cover for the U.S. reconnaissance planes.

Premier Souvanna Phouma's neutralist government ordered the protection after consultations with U.S. Embassy officials in the wake of the loss of the two American planes.

Armed Escorts

In Washington, the State Department said the reconnaissance flights would be continued with U.S. fighter escorts. The armed escorts were ordered Saturday after the loss of Lynn's plane near Ban Ban, 25 miles northeast of the Plaine des Jarres.

The downing of the two planes created a new sense of urgency among U.S. officials in Washington. President Johnson met at the White House with his top advisers Sunday. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara abruptly cancelled an appearance at Ohio University's commencement exercises.

The Pathet Lao already holds one U.S. pilot, a civilian Eugene DeBruin of Kaukauna, Wis., was captured last September when his Air America cargo plane was shot down. Air America is a private line under government charter.

Journal Reporter Complains Polish Treatment Rough

WARSAW (AP)—Miss Laura Pilarski, an American woman reporting in Europe for the Milwaukee Journal, left Poland Sunday, complaining that she had been roughly treated by Polish police while attempting to cover the visit of U.S. Postmaster General John A. Gronouski.

Miss Pilarski said a Warsaw police officer had twisted her arm and taken her purse and that she in turn had kicked him in the shin while she was trying to follow Gronouski into the office of Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz Saturday.

Kicked Him

"Yes, I kicked him. What else can a lady do when she gets her arm twisted?" she said.

U.S. Embassy officials said she left with and on the advice of Gronouski when he was forced to cut his visit short after his father died in Wisconsin.

A U.S. official said the Polish foreign ministry had protested to the American Embassy about Miss Pilarski's conduct. Miss Pilarski, who is of Polish ancestry and speaks Polish, arrived and departed from Poland on the same plane as Gronouski.

No Comment

There was no comment from Polish officials on the incident, which several newsmen saw.

Johnson Says Freedom Not Periled by U. S.

tioned in every address he has made this year.

"Is freedom betrayed when in 1964 we redeem in full the pledge made a century ago by the Emancipation Proclamation?" The President said that "far from crushing the individual, government at its best liberates him from the enslaving forces of his environment."

Alluding again to the civil rights issue, he said, "This government is fighting to free 20 million Americans whose rights and whose hopes have been damned because they were born with dark skin."

He went on to couple the civil rights issue with his antipoverty program, saying, "We are determined to wage unconditional war against the poverty that keeps one-fifth of our people in economic bondage."

Witnesses said the policeman allowed other reporters to approach the entrance of the prime minister's building but that he stopped Miss Pilarski possibly because she carried a large handbag and was speaking Polish, causing her to be mistaken for a local citizen. The policeman took the handbag but later returned it, eyewitnesses said.

Enforcement of Rights Bill Will Cause Concern

Washington Hopes Passage Will End Street Protests

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Maybe the southern senators will not be so unhappy, after all, if a "cloture" motion to close debate in the Senate is approved by a two-thirds vote this week. It could, of course, hasten final action on the "civil rights" bill because the proponents are sure of a 51 per cent majority to pass the measure itself.

Lawrence

The sooner the bill is enacted, however, the quicker will the nationwide reaction to its enforcement set in and the sooner will come the public demands for repeal or substantial amendment of the law. For the moment the actual enforcement of such a far-reaching "civil rights" measure starts, there will be general concern from coast to coast due to a variety of reasons.

First, there will be in Congress a controversy as to how much money should be appropriated to augment considerably the federal police force as well as the legal staff of the Department of Justice.

Second, many lawsuits will be filed on every side, not only by the government but by private parties. The government, to be sure, will have the right to intervene in many of the latter cases.

Rooming House

Thus, for example, the owner of a rooming house which will be pressed into a policy of integration with respect to admission of guests may challenge the constitutionality of the new law on the ground that it does not apply equally to all rooming houses. Those with less than five rooms to rent are to be exempted from its provisions. Since the Constitution provides that all citizens are entitled to "the equal protection of the laws," it seems certain that some law-suits will be filed which will insist that, if it is constitutional for rooming houses with five rooms or less to discriminate in choosing customers, it is also constitutional for any such place to do so when it caters to guests who occupy more than five rooms.

The same principle of authorized discrimination by reason of race or color or religion or sex applies in connection with the equal-employment sections of the bill. For the provisions of the proposed law would give the federal government, under the guise of searching for discriminatory actions, the power, in effect, to control employment practices in various businesses. It will be up to the Department of Justice to prove in suits before the Supreme Court just why it is supposed to be constitutional to permit discrimination in a business with less than 100 employees and yet forbid discrimination in a business where there are more than 100 employees.

Many persons, when denied jobs, will argue, moreover, that discrimination was the basis for refusal to grant them employment, and some of these individuals will seek redress on constitutional grounds no matter whether the exempted quota as finally written in the bill is based on a scale varying from 25 to 100 employees over the next four-year period or whether a specific quota of 100 is set. Nearly every company will have to start keeping careful records on job applications, promotions and transfers. Personnel departments will be subject to investigation by federal agents, and there probably will be lawsuits brought not merely where discrimination against Negroes is alleged but where there may be claims of discrimination against whites.

The general hope in Washington has been that enactment of the pending bill would end street demonstrations. There will, of course, be an appeal by the administration here to the Negro leaders to stop the demonstrations and give the law-enforcement machinery a chance to function. But there may be new controversies. While several states, for instance, have their own "civil rights" laws, some of these statutes do not go as far as the bill pending in the Senate.

If issues growing out of the enforcement problem become a matter of public agitation during the summer and autumn months, this could have an effect upon the national campaign, especially in certain congressional districts and states where members of Congress have voted for the "civil rights" legislation and now may have to face a protest vote at the polls.

Party Platform

While the Republicans, in their national party platform, Constitution provides that all citizens are entitled to "the equal protection of the laws," it seems certain that some law-suits will be filed which will insist that, if it is constitutional for rooming houses with five rooms or less to discriminate in choosing customers, it is also constitutional for any such place to do so when it caters to guests who occupy more than five rooms.

The same principle of authorized discrimination by reason of race or color or religion or sex applies in connection with the equal-employment sections of

Doubts Rumors Of Soviet Stamp

LONDON (AP) — One of the world's leading stamp dealers cast doubt on a report that the Soviet Union has issued a commemorative stamp honoring three astronauts lost in orbit.

A Soviet stamp expert at Stanley Gibbons Ltd. said, "We get all new issue stamps from the Soviet Union. We know nothing about this one."

He was commenting on a report published in a Sidney, Ohio, philately weekly, the tabloid Linn Stamp News, saying the Soviet Union had issued a stamp in honor of astronauts "Eduard-erko, Ussiskin and Wasenko," who "are perpetually circling the globe in their special coffins."

The account, written by the stamp weekly's London correspondent said the stamp was "sneaked out without further promotion" by the Soviets and that a memorial had been erected in honor of the space men at a place called Saransk.

The correspondent writes under the pen name of R. Y. Megan. "civil rights" bill becomes law, the more time there will be for the negative sentiment to be aroused and for its influence to be exerted when the presidential and congressional elections are held in November. (Copyright, 1964)
